Bentley Historical Library box

Most of the material listed below is still housed in the original boxes and folders that Congressman Hutchinson's office used to ship them to the Bentley Historical Library. The Ford Library staff has not done any arrangement or description work. These boxes are available for research only on a review-on-request basis – researchers interested in using them should contact the Library well in advance of a visit to allow the staff time to prepare them for research. Please contact us for more information on the contents of individual boxes or to request that material be added to the Library’s review queue.
