TO: MRS. FORD
FROM: MARIA DOWNS M
SUBJECT: Governor's Dinner - February 23, 1976

Attached is the guest list from last year's Governor's Dinner. It did include a few who were not Governors or Administration people. It is my understanding that it was the first time we invited other than those two categories.

If you decide to expand, would you care to use a parlor in addition to the State Dining Room -- allowing us to expand generously.

Our after-dinner entertainment is Tony Bennett. We usually invite an additional 100 people for the entertainment part of the evening.

Thank you.

Regrets for dinner Thursday, February 20, 1975

Mrs. Raul Castro - remained in Arizona

The Governor of Arkansas & Mrs. Pryor - no reason

FROM: MARIA DOWNS rk
SUBJECT: Governors Dinner - Feb. 23, 1976

Would you like to have Susan included in the entrance?
If so, do you want her escort to join her in the East Room?
What are your thoughts about her receiving with you and the President (she sure would have one lonely date). If possible, we would like her escort's name for the dinner guest list which will be distributed to the press.

Please let me know if you particularly would want someone at your table. Governor Ray will be seated to your right as head of the Governor's Association.

We will be sending you a copy of the President's briefing paper as soon as it is sent to us by Domestic Council.

FOR: MRS. FORD
FROM: Maria Downs
Subject: After-Dinner Guest List - Governors Dinner

After-dinner guest list includes two prominent radio celebrities and one television anchorman. Do not believe the President is aware of this.

Mac McGarry (WRC) and Ed Walker (WMAL) -- President has met both at recent Inauguration of National Press Club President.

Television anchorman is David Schoumacher (WMAL - TV) -- he is the one I mentioned Milt Friedman had problems with on a recent interview.

WHITE HOUSE DINNER WITH GOVERNORS AND THEIR SPOUSES

Monday, February 23, 1976
8:00 p.m.
State Dining Room

From: Jim Cannon

I. PURPOSE

To continue a traditional White House event for the Governors and their spouses during their annual Winter Meeting.

II. BACKGROUND, PARTICIPANTS AND PRESS PLAN

A. Background

Since 1967 it has become traditional for the President or Vice President to host a dinner for both Governors and their spouses during their annual Mid-Winter Conference.

You will have opened the General Session Monday morning with one-half hour of remarks. Jim Lynn, Secretaries Simon, Richardson, Butz, Hills, Coleman and Usery, Attorney General Levi and Administrator Zarb will have participated in various work shops during the day as a follow-up to the commitment given by you to the Governors at their State of the States presentation with the Cabinet on December 18.

In addition to these working sessions, there was a special meeting between the White House Staff and Governors Andrus (D-Idaho), Carey (D-NY), Byrne (D-NJ) Shapp (D-PA) and Lucey (D-Wisconsin) on the subject of welfare reform as a response to the telegram sent to you by these Governors in December. Steve McConahey will have had breakfast with the Republican Governors on Monday morning.

You have met in working meetings with all of the Governors including the most recently elected, Cliff Finch (D-Mississippi). In the 50 States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico and the three Territoties, there are 37 Democrats, 14 Republicans, 2 Independents and 1 Popular Democrat.

B. Participants

To be submitted by a separate memorandum.

C. Press Plan

THE WHITE HOUSE
OFFICE OF THE PRESS SECRETARY TO MRS. FORD

The President and Mrs. Ford have asked singer Tony Bennett to entertain at the black-tie dinner honoring the Governors of the States and Territories and their wives, February 23 at 8:00 PM.

Mr. Bennett previously performed at the White House during the Johnson Administration at a State dinner honoring the Prime Minister of Japan. He also has had two command performances before the Queen of England.

Tony Bennett has been a popular singing star for more than two decades. After singing with various military bands during World War II, he got his first big professional break when he won a spot on the Arthur Godfrey television show. That performance led to a tour with Bob Hope, who gave Bennett his stage name, and to his first recording contract. A series of hits in the 1950s placed him among the front ranks of American male vocalists.

His recording of "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" in 1962 has become an American classic, and he has been active on the concert tour. Today he performs about 45 weeks of the year.

He was born Anthony Dominick Benedetto in Long Island City, New York in 1926. His father died when Tony was eight, and for the next 17 years his mother worked as a seamstress in the garment industry. He began his career as a teen-ager as a singing waiter. Before the war, he enrolled at the Manhattan's School of Industrial Art and planned a career as a commercial artist. When his plans were interrupted by three years service in the United States Army, he changed his interest to music.

He and his wife Sandi have three children, two sons and a daughter. They live in Englewood, New Jersey, where Bennett continues his interest in art by painting oils and watercolors.

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of the Press Secretary to Mrs. Ford

The President and Mrs. Ford will host a black tie dinner honoring governors of the 50 states, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the three United States territories (Guam, the American Samoa and the Virgin Islands) at 8:00 P.M. on Monday, February 23, 1976.

Dinner will be followed by toasts by the President and Governor Robert D. Ray of Iowa, Chairman of the National Governor's Conference. After dinner, guests will be entertained by popular singer Tony Bennett, followed by dancing in the Grand Hall to the music of the Marine Dance Band.

Mrs. Ford has chosen a classical folk art theme, "The Peaceable Kingdom" for the decor of the State Floor. Much of the inspiration for the decorations comes from the paintings of Pennsylvania artist Edward Hicks (1780-1849), which depict the Biblical concept of unity -- wild and domestic animals living together in tranquility. In his paintings he often integrate the idea of the peaceful coexistence of Western civilized man with native American Indians.

Hand-crafted animals and birds will be used as centerpieces. Each an American antique, the carvings are made of wood, stone, metal and fabric, and will be placed in a natural setting of multi-colored spring flowers. Candleholders are fashioned of antique wooden spools used in the mills of New England from the turn of the century through 1945. The wood has a shine created from the lanolin of the yarn which was deposited on the wood. Some of the candleholders are trimmed in brass and others in pewter.

The round tables will be draped with taffeta and antique satin tableclothes in shades of bright pinks. Tables will be set with the Johnson China, vermeil flatwear, and the Morgantown crystal.

The decorations are being coordinated by Jack Bangs, chief designer for the Gazebo of New York, who is donating his services. The Museum of American Folk Art is supplying the centerpieces, most of which are from private collections.

The menu: Filet of Mountain Trout Meuniere, Fleurons, Roast Sirloin of Beef, Eggplant Fermiere, Cauliflower with Parsley, Watercress and Mushroom Salad, Trappist Cheese, Grand Marnier Souffle with Sauce Sabayon, Demitasse.

Wines: Gold Seal Pinot Chardonnay; Beringer Cabernet Sauvignon; The Thompson Pere Marquette.
