SUBJECT:

Intergovernmental
Mid-Winter Meetings

Attached is a final listing of the Cabinet participation in the mid-winter meeting of the Governors' Conference scheduled for February 23 and 24. I have expressed to the NGC our interest in having the Domestic Council Staff members attend committee meetings with their appropriate Cabinet officials and NGC welcomes the Domestic Council participation. I would request that you inform me of your plans to attend the Conference in order that the NGC staff can make appropriate arrangements. I think this is an excellent opportunity for Domestic Council people to speak directly with knowledgeable people about their substantive areas and to monitor this Conference for other issues that may be of importance to the Administration.

CECIL D. ANDRUS
GOVERNOR

Washington, D.C.--Gov. Cecil D. Andrus today said "President Ford appears more responsive to the needs of the States than the Democratically-controlled Congress."

The Governor's comments followed remarks by the President before the winter meeting of the National Governors' Conference.

Andrus, a Democrat, said the Republican President "listens to what we as Governors have been telling him." Idaho's Governor specifically cited the President's support for a continuation of the Federal Revenue Sharing program, which Ford reiterated in his remarks to the Governors.

"In several meetings with the President I and other Governors have told the President that proliferating regulations are driving the cost of Federal programs up and their efficiency level down," Andrus said.

He added, "we have been telling the President that States can more effectively handle many Federal programs if the Federal government adopts the block grant approach instead of the myriad of categorical grants which now confront us. The President positively addressed these subjects and reiterated his support."

"I was particularly pleased that the President cited his desire for more efficient delivery of health services to the States, which I, as chairman of the Human Resources Committee, have been advocating for some time. The President illustrated his speech with charts showing his executively-ordered elimination of various Federal divisions which have been unnecessarily involved in the delivery of health services."

Andrus concluded, "The President has been listening, and frankly, I am both flattered and pleased."

DRAFT

February 19, 1976

M E M O R A N D U M

TO: Governor Robert D. Ray
FROM: James L. Martin
SUBJECT: New Coalition Meeting with the Congressional Democratic Leadership

Attached is a list of the invited attendees. There are three major missions as seen by the Washington staff. The New Coalition seeks:

1. House Floor passage during April. The cities will take the lead on this issue.
2. Leadership help in any procedural problems that might arise. The state legislators will take the lead.
3. Leadership concurrence that the revenue sharing principles outlined by the New Coalition, NACO will lead.

You, as Chairman, should open the meeting with thanks to the Speaker for working with the New Coalition to discuss the number one priority for each of our organizations.

A round of self-introductions for the Coalition members would be appropriate, followed by a brief discussion of the three missions:

1. Passage in the House during April. - Hon. Moon Landrieu representing the cities.
2. Leadership representing the cities' assistance in overcoming any procedural problems - Speaker Sabo representing the state legislators.
3. Leadership concurrence in the New Coalition principles for revenue sharing - Hon. Woodrow Dumas representing the counties.
