United Nations Declaration On Right

Minnesota Law

Under present Minnesota law any abortion, or intentional destruction of the unborn child, is considered a felony punishable by imprisonment. The only exception involves saving the life of the mother.

Today, attempts are being made to include other reasons for obtaining an abortion. These reasons range from a suspected deformity in the offspring to complete permissiveness, or the granting of abortion on demand.

Before Minnesotans allow further exceptions, the following questions should be carefully considered.

Is the unborn child a human being?

The fertilized ovum constitutes a unique genetic package which is completely programmed for and actively oriented toward adult human existence. The first faint heart beat, the development of vital organs, the beginning of respiration, the onset of puberty, etc., are all moments in this orderly development toward maturity.

There is no magic point before which the embryo is inhuman and after which it suddenly becomes human. Rather, at every stage the developing organism has specifically human characteristics which set it apart from any other animal species. If this is not a human being, what is it?

Does the unborn child have any rights?

THE UNITED NATIONS DECLARATION ON THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD recognizes that the being before birth is a "child," and that the child, so defined, needs legal protection. THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE clearly states that all men are endowed by their Creator with the inalienable right to life. THE 14TH AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION safeguards this right by guaranteeing that no person may be deprived of life without due process of law—"due process" being concerned with the prevention of arbitrary and unreasonable legislation and unfair judicial procedures. THE COURTS have recognized that the unborn child is a human being, can be protected from parental neglect, and can inherit property.

How many illegal abortions are performed each year in this country?

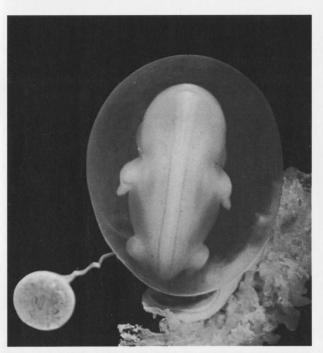

We don't know. Guesses range from 100,000 to 1,200,000. Any figure is highly speculative, however.

How many women die each year in this country from the effects of illegal abortions?

The best statistical estimates are not much over 500, if that many. According to the U. S. Bureau of Vital Statistics, in 1965 there were 235 deaths from abortions of all kinds. The Minnesota average is about 1.5 per year.

Will relaxed abortion laws eliminate illegal abortions?

NO-unless abortions are allowed for any reason whatsoever. In many countries with very permissive abortion laws, the number of illegal abortions has actually risen, partly because a new demand has been produced.

Wouldn't it be better to have no law at all than a law which is often broken?

If the mark of a good law were its observance, laws against speeding and theft would have to be repealed. Prohibiting abortion protects the key principle that innocent life may not be directly attacked.

What about rape and incest?

Fortunately, pregnancy from intercourse during criminal assault is extremely rare and easily preventable if the rape is reported immediately. If pregnancy does occur, there is another human life to consider.

Is abortion the answer to the problem of birth defects?

The steady progress of medical science is the only sure answer. Persistent technological advances are rapidly eliminating some of the known causes of crippling deformities such as syphillis, Rh incompatibility, and German measles.

How valid are psychiatric reasons for abortion?

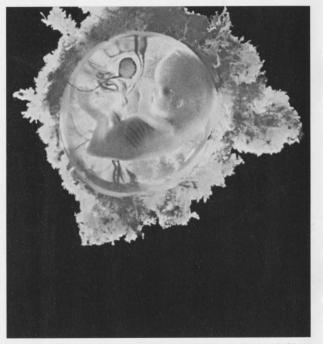

There is no known psychiatric disorder for which abortion is a recognized cure.

What about a woman's rights to privacy and autonomy over her own body?

The right to marital privacy does not imply the right to mistreat children, born or unborn. Control over the use of one's body does not apply to the embryo, which is not part of the mother, but a separate entity.

Should abortion be accepted as a means of population control?

Our country's falling birth rate does not suggest an unmanageable fertility which requires such a desperate measure. Our own life-and-death policies should not be based on the faulty economics of other countries.

What about the woman and her problems?

The solution to the woman's problems is neither to offer her abortion, nor merely to prohibit it, but rather to demonstrate that there are humane alternatives. Concerned persons can free her from socio-economic pressures so that she can do what a mother normally wants to do – bear her child.

This means that we must provide counseling, medical care, financial assistance, homes for unwed mothers, adoption agencies and effective welfare programs. All of these are available now in varying degrees. Better development and use of such programs and agencies is far more socially progressive than the violent, destructive, superficial solution of unrestricted abortion.

The unborn need your voice. Here's how you can help:

While the proponents of relaxed abortion laws in Minnesota are becoming increasingly vocal, the friends of the unborn must also be heard. It is a question of who is the more concerned-those who would defend the sacredness of human life or those who would destroy it as a matter of convenience.

Write a personal letter to your State Senator and Representative informing them of your position on this vital question.

Write letters to your local newspaper. Become a spokesman for those who cannot speak.

MCCL is firmly committed to the protection and fostering of the most basic value of our society—life itself. Today antilife forces are attacking this value with increasing intensity. More and more, war and violence are being tolerated as though they were solutions to human problems.

This same negative approach can be seen in the attempts to relax or to eliminate altogether the humane laws which protect the constitutional and judicially established right to life of the human embryo.

We favor a positive, constructive approach to the abortion issue, namely recognition of the right to life of both mother and child, and we oppose the violent, destructive, dehumanizing approach of unrestrained abortion.

As a consequence, we are committed to the position that the law should not tolerate taking the innocent life of an unborn child, at any stage of its development, unless this is done to preserve a value which is truly commensurate with human life itself.

The developing human being has a right to life which must be protected whenever possible. The destruction of a human embryo is not justified for the convenience of another person.

AFFIRMATION ON THE FAMILY

INTRODUCTION:

We, members of the church of Jesus Christ and participants in the 1975 Continental Congress on the Family, affirm our belief in the one eternal triune God who is Creator, Sustainer, Savior and Lord of the universe. We express our gratitude for His great salvation and rejoice in the fellowship He has given with Himself and with other believers. We are deeply concerned about the deteriorating state of the family. We confess we have failed to give sufficient attention to our own families. We dedicate ourselves anew to the task of strengthening families in our homes, churches, communities and nations. We affirm the divine inspiration and authority of the Bible in its entirety as the foundation on which we seek to build stronger marriages and better family relationships. To this end, we publicly affirm our faith and resolve.

1. THE ORIGIN AND PURPOSE OF MARRIAGE:

We believe marriage was instituted by God at the beginning of the human race and was designed to involve the total life-long commitment of a man and woman to God and to each other. Therefore, marriage is an honorable status involving the privileges and responsibilities of mutual submission, companionship, respect, fidelity, sexual fulfillment and procreation. It is a joyful joining of lives at many levels and provides the opportunity for mature love so vital to the wholeness of persons, prompting the poetic celebration of Adam in Genesis 2:23.

(Gen. 2:18-25; Ex. 20:14; Matt. 19:4-6; Eph. 5:21-33; I Cor. 7:1-5; I Peter 3:1-7)

2. THE UNIQUENESS OF CHRISTIAN MARRIAGE:

We affirm Christian marriage as a unique husband-wife relationship modeled after Christ's relationship to the Church. In Christian marriage, the husband and wife strive to become one spiritually, intellectually, emotionalaccordance with Biblically prescribed roles. The husband is head of the wife. He is responsible to love her as Christ loved the Church and he loves himself. The husband-wife dedicate themselves to the well-being of each other, cleaving, providing, and encouraging each other in their God-given freedom to develop their own gifts and abilities. The husband and wife are joint heirs with Christ and share equally "in joy and in sorrow, in plenty and in want, in sickness and in health." The wife submits herself to her husband, loves him and respects him. Christian marriage is meant to be a life-long relationship between one man and one woman, indissoluble except by death.

(Matt. 19:1-12; I Cor. 7:10-15; Gal. 3:27-38; Eph. 5:21-33; I Peter 3:7; Prov. 31:10-31)

3. DIVORCE AND REMARRIAGE:

We affirm the permanence of marriage as the intent of God. We believe that divorce is contrary to God's intention for marriage. Divorce is also a profound human tragedy leaving a legacy of anguish, bitterness, loneliness, a sense of failure, and a deep fear of close personal relations. We regret the ease with which divorces are attained and believe that easy divorce and remarriage are among the factors contributing to the breakdown of family life. We believe that reconciliation is an alternative superior to divorce.

and socially), and teaching them from the Word of God in a spirit of Christian love and nurture. Parents, together, are responsible to teach spiritual truth and other information by word of mouth and by example. They are to discipline in a firm, consistent, loving manner in the home. The role of the child includes becoming an obedient learner who is being trained to become a mature adult able to exercise wise and responsible discernment in making decisions. Children are to honor their parents, to obey them as they would obey the Lord, and to care for their needs in old age. Each member of the Christian family has spiritual gifts which are to be discovered, developed, and used to glorify God and strengthen each other within the family.

We deeply regret the breakdown in family closeness and order, and we urge mothers and especially fathers to resume their God-ordained roles as leaders in the home. We oppose the unhealthy influences which seek to exploit children through pornography, drug abuse, and unethical advertising. We are deeply concerned about the harmful effects of television, films and printed news media, the lack of discipline and poor adult example in home and school, and the breakdown of family unity and cohesion. We urge parents and schools to raise and teach children in a climate of mature love, respect and discipline. We urge churches to give priority attention to the task of equipping parents to provide homes in which the spiritual, psychological, intellectual and social development of children is of crucial importance.

(Gen. 1:27-28; Ex. 20:12; Deut. 5:16; 6:4-25; Prov. 1:8; 6:20; 10:1; 20:11; 22:6; 31:10-31; Acts 5:1-11; 18:1-4. 24-28; Rom. 16:3-5; I Cor. 11:11; Eph. 5:21-33; 6:1-4; Col. 3:20, 21, 24; Heb. 5:12-14; I Tim. 5:3-4, 8; II Tim. 1:5; 3:15; Titus 2:4)

5. THE SINGLE PERSON:

We agree that the single life is a valid lifestyle for many Christians and one to which some have been called by God. Singleness and celibacy are, for some persons, gifts from God, preferable to marriage, and conducive to greater personal and spiritual development. Many other single persons desire to marry but find no suitable mate for reasons beyond their control. We agree that the local church is intended to be the family of all God's people. We urge churches, individuals and families to be sensitive to the needs of the single, divorced and widowed persons in their fellowship and to help them fully utilize their gifts in the church. We encourage singles to develop a personal ministry and to establish meaningful relationships within the church family.

(Ps. 68:6; Matt. 19:12; I Cor. 7:7-8, 25-27, 32-35)

6. THE WIDOWED AND ELDERLY:

We affirm that widows and widowers are to be respected, honored and accepted fully as equals in the body of believers. We are greatly distrubed by the dishonor and difficulties experienced by the aged and widowed in our society. Family members are to honor and care for the widowed, especially those who are elderly. The Church also has responsibility to nurture and where appropriate, to minister to the elderly, neglected, lonely and needy in a spirit of Christian acceptance and concern.

(Job 12:12; Ps. 71:9; Prov. 16:31; 23:22; I Tim. 5:1-16; Titus 2:3-5)

7. HUMAN SEXUALITY:

The human body and the capacity for sexual relationship, enjoyment, and reproduction are God's gifts to be received in an attitude of thanksgiving, wonder, and joyful worship. We rejoice that God created male and female as sexual beings and we affirm that sexual intercourse within marriage is good, desirable, honorable, and consistent with person holiness. Parents are to convey such attitudes to children along with providing factual information. Parents and churches have a God-assigned responsibility to provide moral guidance by word and by example so that God's gift of sex will be used in ways honoring Jesus Christ.

8. HOMOSEXUALITY:

We affirm that sexual unions between persons of the same sex are unbiblical and sinful, a perversion of the divine plan of the Creator. We oppose attempts by such homosexual unions to form unisex families through adoption, or foster-parenthood of children.

While we acknowledge the Bible teaches homosexuality to be sinful, we recognize that a homosexual orientation can be the result of having been sinned against. We oppose the unjust and unkind treatment given to homosexuals by individuals, society and the Church, and we urge the Church, as the Body of Christ, to accept such individuals as needing understanding, forgiveness, encouragement, and spiritual support.

We pledge ourselves to minister to those who are homosexually oriented in order to help them to change their life-style in a manner which brings glory to God.

(Lev. 18:22; 20:13; Rom. 1:27; I Cor. 6:9; I Tim. 1:10) (Rom. 2:1; Mt. 18:11; I Thess. 4:8, 9) (I Cor. 6:11; II Cor. 5:17; Rom. 8:1)

9. BIRTH CONTROL:

We acknowledge that Christians differ in their views on birth control and we respect these differences in the light of scripture's almost total silence on this subject. God, at the time of creation, commanded mankind to be fruitful and multiply and we rejoice in the birth of children as a heritage and gift from God. We are deeply concerned about the realities of overpopulation, world hunger, and the harmful effects that overpopulation can have on the environment and on individual families. We encourage Christian couples to limit the size of their families, in a way that is not at variance with Biblical teaching and to keep family size to the number of children that can be nourished and taught effectively.

(Gen. 1:38; 38:9-10; Ps. 127:4-5; Prov. 22:6; Eph. 5:17; I Tim. 5:8)

10. ABORTION:

We acknowledge that Christians differ in their view concerning the time when personhood begins, but we agree that God has admonished us to choose life instead of death, and has set penalties for those who would, even accidentally, cause a pregnant woman to be injured in such a way that an unborn child is harmed. We believe that compassion for distressed mothers and families, and concern for unborn children require us to offer spiritual guidance and material solace consistent with the teachings of God's Word. We urge the church to influence the social-moral climate in which unintended pregnancies occur.

We see no grounds on which Christians who are concerned for all human life and for the well-being of the family can condone the free and easy practice of abortion as it now exists in our society. At the same time, we exhort the church to show compassion for those who suffer because of the abortion experience.

(Ex. 21:22; Ps. 8; Ps. 139:13-18; Jer. 1:4-5; Luke 1:39-66; Luke 10:30-37; Acts 10:34-35).

11. THE CHRISTIAN FAMILY AND THE CHURCH:

We affirm that the family as a unit is not self-sufficient and self-contained as a body of believers. Rather, the family has need of continuing support from other families and from individuals within the Body. The local Church is a company of believers who exist for fellowship, worship, teaching, and the development of spiritual gifts to the end that God will be glorified and the Body of Christ edified. As part of the universal Body of Christ, the local church is an extended family composed of nuclear families and individuals who are living apart from nuclear families.

The remarriage of divorced persons is inconsistent with the plan of God for mankind, but in the opinion of some believers, may be permitted because of divine grace and as a specific manifestation of the forgiveness and new beginnings offered mankind by the Christian gospel. The Church must be a community of compassion, love, healing and forgiveness for divorced, separated and remarried persons. The Church must also attempt to prevent divorce by clearly and persistently setting forth the Biblical teachings on marriage and sex relations, and by providing a therapeutic community of believers.

(Gen. 2:24; Matt. 19:1-9; I Cor. 7:10-14, 39: Rom. 7:2-4)

4. CHILDREN AND FAMILY LIFE:

We affirm that children, natural and adopted, are a heritage from God, given in sacred trust. They are not to be abused or neglected. Children are not pawns of the Church, state or parents. Every child deserves to have a warm, caring relationship with a mother and father, the opportunity to develop a healthy self-esteem through loving parents, and the opportunity to be nurtured in an environment which models Christian behavior and values.

We believe that the roles of parents include providing for their children's growth (mentally, physically, spiritually, We deplore distorted, unbiblical and sinful sexual attitudes and practices, both within and outside of marriage, which contribute to the breakdown of the family. We resolve to resist the moral decline in our society, to teach that sex is to be enjoyed with mutual respect and fulfillment within marriage, and to proclaim that ultimate control results from Christian maturation which is brought about by the power of the Holy Spirit through the fellowship of the faithful and through happy, useful service to Christ.

(Gen. 1:26-31; Deut. 5:18, 6:1-25; I Sam. 2:22; Ps. 139:13-18; Prov. 1:8-10; 5:18-19; 6:20; 7:27; I Cor. 6:14-20, 7:1-6; Eph. 6:4; I Thes. 4:1-8; I Tim. 4:3-5; Heb. 13:4)

The church exists to support, nurture, and equip individuals and families for growth in discipleship (including evangelism) and effective functioning. We urge, therefore, that families become involved actively in the local church and that they pray, worship and serve Christ together. We urge churches to minister to families and individuals in creative ways which build church and family unity, prepare young people for mate selection and marriage, educate families in effective family living, assist family members and individuals in their spiritual and personal growth, and give support in times of stress or special need.

(Matt. 16:18; Act 2:41-47; 4:32-35; Rom. 8:16, 17; I Cor. 6:15; Eph. 3:15; 5:30; Col. 1:18)

NOMINATION TABLE

Communication can make any marriage. There are proven, Scripturally-based principles that will help all relationships. You'll have an opportunity in this seminar to learn these principles. It could help change lives in your church and enrich your marriage as well.

Sexual Fulfillment in Marriage

Communication and Conflict

Resolution

One of the areas least talked about by the church is sex, yet surveys of married couples indicate that sex is one of the three major trouble spots. This practical seminar was developed by a Christian couple who work professionally in the area of marriage counseling and sexual therapy. The seminar offers sound, Christian counsel to enhance physical relationships.

Building Self-esteem in the Family One of the most important things a parent can pass along to a child is a good self-image. How a child feels about himself will be a very significant factor in his ability to relate to others —at home, at school, in the community and in the church. This seminar will teach parents how to cultivate a sense of selfworth in their children.

Building Family Unity In today's society the family is often fragmented. Work, school, and recreational activities allow family members little time together. Even meals, once a time for family fellowship, are not always eaten together. This seminar will highlight strategies for building family unity. You will learn ways to help develop a family atmosphere of trust and openness.

A large and growing group within the church, though often neglected or ignored, is adult singles. In addition to the seminars for couples and parents, the CHURCH & FAMILY Forums will offer the church a way to minister to the specific needs of singles.

Positive Single Identity In a world seemingly designed for marrieds it's not hard to understand why a single person would sometimes ask the question. "Who am I and how do I relate to a marriageoriented society?" This seminar will show how to develop a sense of personal identity, purpose, and a feeling of belonging in the church and in society.

Formerly Married — Beginning Again

Whether we like it or not, divorce is becoming more and more common, and the battlescars need to be healed. The church is the only agency in our society that can offer total care. This seminar will show how to help the formerly married come to grips with self-identity, self-acceptance and self-love and find a future of meaning and uniqueness.

A large and growing group within the church, though often neglected or ignored, is adult singles. In addition to the sem-inars for couples and parents, the CHURCH & FAMILY Forums will offer the church a way to minister to the specific needs of singles.

Positive Single Identity

In a world seemingly designed for marrieds it's not hard to understand why a single person would sometimes ask the question. "Who am I and how do I relate to a marriage-oriented society?" This seminar will show how to develop a sense of personal identity, purpose, and a feeling of belonging in the church and in society.

Formerly Married-Beginning Again

Whether we like it or not, divorce is becoming more and more common, and the battlescars need to be healed. The church is the only agency in our society that can offer total care. This seminar will show how to help the formerly married come to grips with self-identity, self-acceptance and self-love and find a future of meaning and uniqueness.

THERE'S AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY COMING YOUR WAY

... It's a chance for your church to help marriages and families... it's a chance for you to help ... to help people where they hurt most.

It's a unique opportunity that you may not have again—a practical way that, through your church, you can help:

- · Parents build self-worth in their children and unity in their families
- Couples learn to communicate verbally and sexually
- Singles develop positive identities and lifestyles

Hard to imagine? A CHURCH & FAMILY Forum can make it happen in your church.

YOU AND YOUR CHURCH CAN DO SOMETHING TO HELP MARRIAGES AND FAMILIES

CHURCH & FAMILY Forums are different ... a new approach to helping the church minister to families. They got their start at the Continental Congress on the Family.

CONTINENTAL CONGRESS ON THE FAMILY

In October of 1975 more than 2,200 church leaders, pastors, and family counselorsfrom over 60 denominations—gathered for a week-long Congress on the Family. Eighty-five concerned spiritual leaders and family specialists led over 65 seminars touching every area of marriage and the family. The whole week was spent identifying opportunities available to the church for strengthening homes.

Five books were published from the Congress alone ... hundreds of churches have been affected ... seminaries have reevaluated their curriculum ... whole denominations have started marriage and family programs ... major Christian organizations have made family ministry one of their primary goals. The Continental Congress on the family was truly one of the most significant marriage and family events in the history of the Church.

Now, CHURCH & FAMILY Forums take up where the Congress on the Family left off. Six practical seminars for Christian singles, parents, and married couples have been developed into a unique program-a program that you can take back to the families of your church after experiencing it your-

A "SHARE-ABLE" CONFERENCE

These are "share-able" conferenceseach seminar has been specifically developed to be used in a church program. Practical, easy-to-use materials have been designed to increase the effectiveness of the seminars

At a CHURCH & FAMILY Forum you will receive a complete set of the new materials published especially for the seminars that you attend. These seminars will not end with the Forums but they will be shared with new couples, parents, and singles over and over again. They will become the pattern couple who work professionally in the area of marriage counseling and sexual therapy. The seminar offers sound, Christian counsel to enhance physical relationships.

SINGLENESS

A large and growing group within the church, though often neglected or ignored, is adult singles. In addition to the seminars for couples and parents, the CHURCH & FAMILY Forums will offer the church a way to minister to the specific needs of singles.

Single Identity-In a world seemingly designed for marrieds it's not hard to understand why a single person would sometimes ask the question, "Who am I and how do I relate to a marriage-oriented society?" This seminar will show how to develop a sense of personal identity, purpose, and a feeling of belonging in the church and in society.

The Single Experience: Creating a Successful Lifestyle-People experience singleness in a variety of situations—they may be widowed, divorced, or never married. In each case the single person relates to society in a significantly different way than do married people. The Single Experience takes a practical approach to the problems of the single lifestyle and offers meaningful suggestions and solutions to many of the everyday problems that are unique to the single.

PARENTHOOD

program for your church.

A GROUP EXPERIENCE

The Forums' are designed as group experiences. You and others from your church will work through the learning process as a team. Together you will evaluate your needs—as individuals, as couples, as parents, and as a church— and choose seminars to attend. After the seminars your team will meet to plan specific action for sharing the information with your church. The experience of learning and sharing together as a team may well be the most exciting part of the conference.

YOUR CHURCH TEAM

Your church team will be vital to the success of your program. Each team should consist of at least four people concerned about your church's family life. Ideally, there should be the pastor and his wife and a combination of singles, couples, and parents so that your church will be represented in each seminar. You will have the opportunity to attend two of these six seminars dealing with marriage, parenthood, and singleness.

Communication and Conflict Resolution—Communication can make any marriage. There are proven, Scriptually-based principles that will help any relationship. You'll have an opportunity in this seminar to learn these principles. It could help change lives in your church and enrich your marriage as well.

Sexual Fulfillment in Marriage—One of the least talked about but most important areas of a marriage is sex. Surveys of married couples indicate that sex is one of the three major trouble spots. This practical seminar was developed by a Christian

Dear Mr. Returnen,

We were disappointed to hear that the Church and Family Forums have been shortened and the exhibit space cancelled.

We are still very interested in trying our exhibit at the meetings, even if the only space available is in a hotel lobby or registration area. We have contacts in many areas of the country and had planned on using these people in any case to avoid large expenses for travel.

If such an exhibit arrangement is a possibility we would appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely,

GERALO

Dear Mr. Lampe:

This is to notify you that we have made some changes in the upcoming CHURCH & FAMILY Forums that will effect your participation as an exhibitor.

FAMILY CONCERNING

Because of the response to date we have made a radical departure from our original plans and streamlined the program significantly. Rather than the original four day program in 8 cities we are shortening the Forums to an intensive one day program that will be associated with our Family Affair Seminars which will be held in 20 cities this year.

We really don't think that the new format would justify the time and expense of exhibitors, so we are returning the fee that you have paid. We have not made plans for exhibit space in the new format.

We're sorry if this has inconvenienced you in any way, but we did want to do what appeared to be right in this situation. If you have any questions don't hesitate to contact me.

Enclosed is your check for $275.00. Thank you.

condially,

Dear Mr. Lampe:

Thank you for your letter of January 10. We spent some amount of time trying to find a way to still have exhibits in the new CHURCH & FAMILY format, but we've come to the decision that we just can't do it.

Dear Mr. Lampe:

This is to notify you that we have made some changes in the upcoming CHURCH & FAMILY Forums that will effect your participation as an exhibitor.

FAMILYCONCERNINC

Because of the response to date we have made a radical departure from our original plans and streamlined the program significantly. Rather than the original four day program in 8 cities we are shortening the Forums to an intensive one day program that will be associated with our Family Affair Seminars which will be held in 20 cities this year.

We really don't think that the new format would justify the time and expense of exhibitors, so we are returning the fee that you have paid. We have not made plans for exhibit space in the new format.

We're sorry if this has inconvenienced you in any way, but we did want to do what appeared to be right in this situation. If you have any questions don't hesitate to contact me.

Enclosed is your check for $275.00. Thank you.

Dear Mr. Adams,

We were disappointed to hear that the Church and Family Forums have been shortened and the exhibit space cancelled.

We are still very interested in trying our exhibit at the meetings, even if the only space available is in a hotel lobby or registration area. We have contacts in many areas of the country and had planned on using these people in any case to avoid large expenses for travel.

If such an exhibit arrangement is a possibility we would appreciate hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Dear Friend:

Here's a unique opportunity for you to reach thousands of pastors and church leaders with your family-oriented materials.

Plans are now under way for the eight CHURCH & FAMILY Forums to be held around North America in 1977. These regional conferences are an outgrowth of the Continental Congress on the Family. The Congress, held last October in St. Louis, attracted over 2200 church leaders representing over 60 denominations.

The participants in the CHURCH & FAMILY Forums will come as part of a team from their church. They will come looking for new materials, resources, and services to help strengthen and enrich the lives of singles, marriages, and families. The conferences are specifically designed to provide these teams with materials and experiences that they can take back and share with their churches. As they put what they have learned to work, the teams can carry the message of your exhibit back to homes and churches where it will do the most good. Between 1,500 and 3,000 people will attend each conference -- a total of 15 - 20,000 people at the eight conferences -- and each is in a position to influence many other people.

The conferences will be held in some of the finest facilities available in each of the eight cities. The exhibit areas in each facility have been carefully chosen to allow maximum exposure of the participants to your exhibit.

Here are the dates and locations of the Forums:

Philadelphia, PA	Philadelphia-Sheraton Hotel	January 25-28, 1977
Atlanta, GA	Sheraton Biltmore	February 8-11, 1977
Dallas, TX	Sheraton Dallas Hotel	March 1-4, 1977
Pasadena, CA	Convention Center/ Holiday Inn	March 29- April 1, 1977
Chicago, IL	Sheraton-Chicago Hotel	April 12-15, 1977
Seattle, WA	Olympic Hotel	May 3-6, 1977

Toronto, Ontario	The Toronto Centre	September 6-9, 1977
Minneapolis, MN	Radisson South	October 11-14, 1977

You may reserve space for your exhibit at any conference or combination of conferences. The cost is $275 per conference if you exhibit at 1-3 locations. If you exhibit at 4-7 locations the cost is $250 per conference. If you plan to exhibit at all eight locations the cost is $235 per conference. One-half of the cost for your exhibit space is due as a deposit with your registration form. The balance is due 60 days before the conference.

Exhibit space may be cancelled with no penalty up to 10 weeks before the conference begins. A full refund will be made promptly. Cancellations 10-6 weeks before the conference will be made at the rate of 50% of the cost of space reserved. No refund will be made for exhibit space cancelled less that six weeks before each conference begins.

Each exhibit space is 8' x 10' and includes a 6' table. All exhibits will be table top exhibits. The cost of the exhibit space includes the privilege of attending all CHURCH & FAMILY Forum sessions for two people. Exhibitors as well as participants are encouraged to bring their spouses to the conference.

Exhibit space will be assigned on a first come first served basis. To reserve your space or to receive more information and exhibit floor plans please fill out the attached registration form and return to:

DEVELOPING ALTERNATIVES TO ABORTION

by Judith Fink and Marjory Mecklenburg Vice President President American Citizens Concerned for Life, Inc.

Over one million women aborted their unborn children during the past twelve months in the United States. Most were neither physically or mentally ill. More than one third were under 20 years of age. None were required by law to consult the baby's father, even if he was her husband. Those who could not afford to pay for the abortion were subsidized by federal and state governments. Minors were not required to notify their parents, or to seek their consent.

Abortion is legal in this country and has become the second most common operation, following tonsillectomy. The United States Supreme Court, in a 7-2 decision on January 22, 1973 ruled that a woman's "fundamental right to privacy" gave her the option of ending a pregnancy until the moment of live birth occurs. She need only find a willing physician.

Those who advocated the legalization of abortion and those who oppose it are engaged in a fierce dispute over the right to life of the unborn child versus the right to privacy of women. Re-establishment of the protection of the law previously enjoyed by unborn children is highlighted by the "right-tolifers". Those speaking against any encroachment on the Court's decision have rallied behind the "right-to-choose."

For the sake of semantics and image, one pole of argument calls itself "pro-life" and the other prefers to be designated "pro-choice." The distinction becomes clear by an evaluation of these labels in the light of what the Scriptures say regarding the unborn and life-oriented choice.

The acknowledgment of the pregnant Mary by Elizabeth as the mother of the Lord, and the unborn John's leap for joy in the presence of the unborn Jesus is known to all Christians. The Psalmist wrote of his awareness that God's factor determining whether pregnancy assistance will be adequate may be where the woman lives when she seeks help, raising the question of whether discrimination is produced by geographical location.

The legal climate resulting from the Supreme Court abortion decision has permitted the creation of an implied national policy against life. Abortion advocates argue that to prevent discrimination against poor women the "fundamental right" to an abortion mandates that it be paid for by public funds. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (DHEW) in early 1974 issued an impact statement setting out, on a cost/benefit ratio, the price to taxpayers of publicly funded abortion versus the cost of prenatal care, childbirth, and post-partum followup. The statement suggest^{$2} to the United States Congress that it was in the best financial interest of Americans to structure services to the poor in a manner that abortion receives priority.

This approach to improving the quality of life caused a furor among many legislators and their constituents, and set in motion shock waves of reaction. Examination began of the policy practices of governmental agencies, public and private groups, and advisory committees which most intimately deal with the abortion versus life questions. One chilling fact emerged -- it is much cheaper, easier, and more private to abort than to give birth.

As Christians trying to obey the Word of God in an increasingly secularized society, must we numbly accept abortion-on-demand-until-birth? Can we, in conscience, abandon desperately frightened women and hope that they will -somehow -- make the choice for life which God demands? Is abortion the best we have to offer?

Many Americans are working to blunt or overturn the 1973 Supreme Court decision. Development of innovative alternatives to abortion has only recently begun to be recognized to be a necessary adjunct to measures designed to alter the legal climate. Newly proposed federal legislation was introduced into the Senate Health Subcommittee, chaired by Sen. Edward Kennedy, on October 18, 1975 and depression. Positive feelings of acceptance develop as the pregnancy advances and fetal movements are detected. Pressure to abort due to the psychic strains of the early months can be reduced by sympathetic and patient supportive counselling. A woman should be able to rely on the interest of a continuing caseworker or clergyman who can follow her through the pregnancy, visit her after delivery and assist in the post-partum adjustments. Money should be made available by both governmental agencies and churches to existing and future "life-supporting" organizations to ensure that this kind of comprehensive counselling and follow-up is available to all who need and request it.

However, the present slim resources of these dedicated "hot-line" groups cannot match the millions of dollars in private foundation funds and federal grants for abortion programs that clinics, hospitals, and abortion counseling services enjoy. In today's climate, often the first contact a troubled pregnant woman has is with a minister associated with the Clergy Consultation Service, which is organized nationwide and was founded to provide abortion information⁽¹⁾. The Clergy Service, associated with Planned Parenthood Inc., is widely advertised and available. Although CCS claims to open all options, it has been in the forefront of the opening of not a few abortion clinics and admits that a very high percentage of its clients accept an abortion referral. CCS spokesmen have been known to paint abortion as the only "moral" choice when the dilemma is complex or socioeconomic factors are severe.

Training for specialized counseling in problem pregnancy situations is very difficult to obtain for today's busy clergy. Some may be relieved to have at their disposal the telephone number of an abortion clinic, particularly when their denomination has indicated its sanction by an enabling resolution. The abortion counselor may feel a tangible sense of accomplishment, unlike the despair which often accompanies attempts to help the alcoholic or the potential sense of values, her maternal instinct, how much support she has from her parents, then the recollection of having had an abortion can serve as a trigger for all sorts of emotional problems."

Mrs. Sherri Finkbine Burrows, who went to Sweden for an abortion in 1962 after learning that she had inadvertently taken the teratogenic drug thalidomide, has publicly stated that she suffers from lingering guilt feelings and that she attempts to help other women cope with postabortion mental and emotional (3) problems.

Post-abortal guilt, manifested by psychological indicators and spiritual anguish, has not been studied in enough depth to publish extensive and unbiased conclusions. The federal government should be urged to register its concern over the conflicting data brought forth to date regarding these after-effects, by undertaking a long-term research project to study the ultimate impact of the present policies.

Church-related maternity care centers and Christian social service workers can contribute to the compilation and evaluation of information. Equity and fairness demands that research programs involving abortion data include professional personnel of the pro-life persuasion as well as proponents of legalized abortion.

There is presently very uneven and incomplete reporting of data on the demographic and statistical aspects of abortion. The Chief of Statistical Services, Center for Disease Control (CDC) of the DHEW, Jack C. Smith, stated in January, 1975, that "abortion may have a substantial impact on the health of this country's citizens but without complete, accurate and detailed reporting (4) the true impact of abortion on health will remain unknown."

It is generally agreed by both proponents (5) and oppdents of abortion that more work needs to be done in the demographic field before any solid conclusions regarding its safety are drawn.

have little or no idea about the nature of responsible parenthood and even less insight into the reasons for her own actions which have led to the pregnancy. The single young mother often struggles to survive on meager funds, isolated from her peers, alienated from her family, and stunted in her emotional and social development. Children of these mothers may suffer even worse deprivations.

By working together, the public and voluntary sectors can do much to help these young single heads of families. Further unintended pregnancies can also be reduced by involvement after the baby is delivered to assist the young mother's development into a maturing woman able to make responsible decisions about both her own and her child's future.

CHILD CARE SERVICES

There is a compelling need for the provision of child care services when mothers must leave their homes to work or to further their educations. The well-run day care facility can be viewed as a positive alternative to abortion. For many pregnant women, the knowledge that they will be the sole support of themselves and their baby, but must remain at home to care for the child and be compelled by circumstances to seek welfare support instead of a job is sufficient motivation to seek abortion.

Care for children under the age of three years presents special problems, as the child-adult ratio must be very low to achieve the individualized program (6) necessary for healthy mental and emotional development. At present, this kind of service is lacking in most child care programs, and yet it is the most needed for the new mother if she is not to become a candidate for continuing assistance.

Child care centers should be sensitive to, and respond to, the needs and desires of the members of the community in which they are situated. Churches and denominational social concerns committees can work with others in their locale to establish facilities which will begin to meet the demonstrated need.

ADOPTION POLICIES

It is evident from recent United States Senate hearings on "black-market" adoptions that the rights of infants are being violated. Adoption exists to meet the needs of the child, but practices flourish which negate that basic premise and which are destrictive to the mother.

An example of the problems a single pregnant woman may face is illustrated by the Stanley decision, which has been interpreted by some lower courts to mean that efforts to find and consult the baby's father must be made prior to replacement of a child for adoption. The attendant publicity and legal action resulting from this alone discourages many women from continuing a pregnancy or from relinquishing a child for placement in a waiting qualified family.

Further identification of weaknesses in adoption policies have highlighted the practice of pregnant women being intercepted by "counseling services" which are often associated with abortion clinics. These "finders" either steer the woman toward abortion or, if she rejects it, then make arrangements with second or third parties to provide her with maintenance during pregnancy, and subsequently with money received from the adoptive parents. In effect, the baby is purchased by the highest bidder. These practices are frequently set up to be marginally legal. Those involved in the "finder" network defend their action by pointing to the dearth of providers of life support services.

GENETIC COUNSELING

Genetic counseling should be available to anyone of childbearing age who has a legitimate concern about his or her ability to produce normal children. Advising couples of genetic risk before they begin a child's life can help them decide whether they wish to assume the statistical risk of their offspring inheriting a metabolic or structural defect.

Procedures designed to diagnose intrauterine illness in the unborn child are laudable, as long as the intention is to treat and not kill the child if it is found to be imperfect. Making it acceptable to kill the imperfect baby

EDUCATING OUR YOUNG PEOPLE

"I didn't know what I was doing -- didn't know there was a baby already growing," is an often-heard cry as counselors listen to women working through post-abortal psychological problems. Pregnancy is seen as an abstract by most women until the baby has grown large enough for its kicks and wiggles to be felt. This occurs somewhere between the 4th and 5th month. Abortion clinics do not describe the stages of intrauterine development, and, if asked, refer to the unborn as merely a mass of cells or employ euphemisms such as "product of conception."

Several tasteful and accurate films depicting the development of unborn life, relating it to the creation of a family with joy and wonder, are available and suitable for use in teen and college age groups. Teaching our children to value human life, developing courses that reach even into the primary years, has been seen by Christian educators as essential if they are to grow up knowing that as children of God they are called to be gentle with those who are weak, helpful to those who are in need, and protective of those who are endangered. OUR HEAVY BURDEN

The abortion question centers around human rights -- their interpretation and their denial. The unborn child lays claim to certain human rights before both God and man by the fact of his existence, judicial fiat notwithstanding. Regardless of the social or legal climate in which his life begins and moves toward birth, his mother is his first line of defense against pre-birth aggression. It is literally with her that his life rests. Christians must examine the pregnant woman's life situation, assess what is required to preserve her personal dignity, her mental and physical health, and her spiritual integrity before God, and then help to love begins with the first days of unborn life: "Thine eyes did see my substance, it as yet being unperfect, and in Thy book all my members were written, which in continuance were fashioned when as yet there were none of them. How precious, also, are Thy thoughts unto me, O God. How great is the sum of them." (Psalm 139: 13-18).

Christians are enthusiastic about life and its mystery, and deeply aware that God has firmly admonished us regarding our choice in the matter. He has set before us life and death, and tamped the guidepost firmly in place: "...choose life, that you and your descendants might live." (Deut. 30:19).

To choose an abortion is to make a choice for death.

Our belief in and obedience to the Bible, then, will cause us to reject abortion as a solution to human problems. Yet, the number of women who do choose the operation is increasing sharply. Is it correct to assume that none of them are Christians? Most of us would disagree.

The argument for the right to life versus the right to privacy has resulted in a climate of increasing bitterness between the adversaries. An additional, subler, negative effect has taken place in the midst of the furor. The pregnant woman who chooses to give birth to her baby despite distressed circumstances has been almost overlooked, her needs largely ignored, and her choice made more difficult. Many are simply unable, due to economic deprivation brought about as a result of pregnancy, to see their way clear to continue pregnancy. Maternity home care services have shriveled, while discriminatory practices in medical insurance coverage make it difficult or impossible for single women and even some who are married to receive maternity benefits (although abortion is usually covered). Both public and church-related schools often segregate pregnant students, and some still deny them continued education. Only 13 states provide an additional payment for/welfare mother during pregnancy, thus encouraging her malnourishment and that of the baby. Adoption practices may require public disclosure of motherhood. The sole designed specifically to increase services to troubled pregnant women and to erase discriminatory practices. Pro-life support is important to the passage of these measures. Even some abortion advocates have begun to notice the plight of the woman who chooses life and have spoken in favor of alternatives legislation.

Christians cannot remain inert, but must examine their posture toward the problems of less fortunate mothers. Even if others walk by and refuse to notice, dare we fail to offer our concern and care? To effectively help, it is necessary to know what we are attempting to accomplish and where the trouble spots are.

What are the conditions of life which confront women who refuse to abort their babies? What are their rights? What is society's duty to them and to the children they will bear? What is the church's duty? Are we meeting that duty? If these women have been largely ignored by the public sector (and much of the private sector), pushed into the background or eliminated totally from the abortion debate what must be done to correct this? An overview of current practices and problems encountered in the provision of life supporting pregnancy services can help determine an action course.

PROVIDING CHRISTIAN COUNSELING

Some pro-life activists have attempted to provide abortion alternatives with crisis intervention "hot-line" telephones and referral services. In most areas of the country, individuals working in these specialized organizations are unsalaried, raise their own funds, staff telephones, conduct training sessions, and do a generally excellent job with very limited resources. Despite their zeal and dedication, clients must look for backup services to inadequate pre-existing support systems. A limited funding base has required these alternatives groups to seek tax-deductible IRS status, which negates their ability to affect legislation that would strengthen the inadequate service delivery systems upon which they rely.

During the early months of pregnancy it is not uncommon for any woman, regardless of marital or socioeconomic status, to react with fear, resentment, suicide. Having been a party to an arranged abortion, most feel a need to defend their position. Often cited is the unavailability of any other resource.

Concerned Christians can encourage the creation of a new program that will allow involved CCS clergy to withdraw from abortion counseling services. Establishment of a church-supported and clergy-sponsored nationwide Life Counseling Service should be a mandate. To assume that pregnant women seeking crisis intervention automatically are looking for an abortion referral is a gross error. The Christian counselor is aware that "informed consent" applies not only to an understanding of the medical aspects of abortion but to the spiritual as well. Often bereft and suffering, the unhappily pregnant woman looks for redemptive meaning to her anguish and assurances that she will not be forced from the community. Most will choose life if offered hope.

Jesus said "Temptations to sin are sure to come, but woe to him by whom they come." (Luke 17:1). Clergy who counsel and refer women for abortion must ultimately answer to the Lord, but churches can help to see that the mechanism is rejected through which he or she implements the counseling.

Post-Abortal Counseling

Abortion proponents maintain that the psychological aftereffects of an abortion are minimal or nonexistent. They make these claims despite the fact that no definitive long-term studies demonstrating this hypothesis have been undertaken in the United States. Caseworkers, clergy and others who have handled post-abortive psychological sequelae know that complications do occur. Frank Ayd, M.D., a psychiatrist, recently told the United States District Court (2) for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania:

"I think the important thing," to put it this way, we can scrape the baby out of the womb of the mother, but we can't scrape it out of her mind and since it's in her mind, there are going to be various things which will remind her of the fact that she was pregnant, once was in fact a mother, and that she has terminated this. Depending on her religious upbringing, her particular

SPECIAL HELP FOR UNWED MOTHERS

Services to unwed mothers, many of whom are students, should help to eliminate the social stigma which much of our society still places on single parenthood. Many school systems, both public and private, insist that single pregnant girls leave regular classes and take special segregated courses -segregated in the sense that only pregnant girls can attend. This, in effect, is a labelling experience if the girl does not wish to enter such a class, and can be interpreted by her as "punishment" for her pregnancy. The baby's father, often also a student, is never subjected to such segregation or notice.

A strong emphasis should be placed on encouraging pregnant students to continue with their studies. They should be able to choose whether they prefer to remain in regular classes, or to attend a special school, or even to receive home-bound education. Recent federal DHEW regulations require publicly-funded schools to establish classes for pregnant students but widespread implementation of the regulations will proceed only if citizens insist at the local level.

During pregnancy, motivation is high for acceptance of practical courses in parenting and homemaking skills. The majority of unwed mothers keep their children. Comprehensive training in not only the basic skills of mothering such as "how to bathe the baby" but also the myriad details which constitute the art of parenthood can do much to help young women fully understand and cope with stresses of everyday living with children.

It seems clear that we are not able at this time to prevent pregnancy from occurring among young teenagers in this country. Very young mothers are often thrust into an adult world with the responsibility of raising a child while minimally equipped to handle the pressures with which they are surrounded.

The problem of pregnancy in the young teenage girl is compounded by the complexities of her subliminal motivations. Out of wedlock pregnancies may not be unintended. Refusal to use restraint or contraception is an all too common practice among teenagers. The very young mother is quite likely to

BETTER NUTRITION

It is a simple fact that the presence of the unborn child's dependent intrauterine existence alters its mother's own needs. However, as a result (7) of a 1975 Supreme Court decision in Burns v. Alcala, mothers dependent on public assistance in 38 states receive no funds for the benefit of the child until it is born. The small additional payments, where provided, are barely enough to improve the protein content of the mother's diet. Ignoring the changing nutritional needs of a pregnant mother courts disaster -- socially, in humanly, and economically -- the form of possible lowered mental ability of her child. The infant's brain and nervous system develop most rapidly during the last trimester of pregnancy. It is then that malnutrition will work its ravages on both baby and mother, ravages we can never fully repair regardless of subsequent investments in services and treatment.

Although abortion advocates have claimed that infant mortality has been reduced since the advent of legalization, the National Foundation-March of (3) Dimes Annual Report for 1974 points out that infant death rates are still appallingly high among those women most at medical and social risk. The ratio rises sharply; only 11.9 per thousand live births in the no-risk group, 24.4 per thousand for those at social risk, 27.3 for women at medical risk, and 41.6 per thousand for those at both medical and social risk.

Something is happening -- or is not happening -- to perpetuate patterns of discrimination toward poor pregnant women that make them a uniquely disadvantaged class. Malnourishment during pregnancy is a major contributing factor to premature birth, and low birthweight is the underlying or contributing (9) cause of half the deaths of United States infants.

As churches support programs to feed the world's hungry, it is important that we not overlook those who live among us. Nutritional supplements during pregnancy not only can offer hope and prevent abortion, but can help to save lives of infants after birth as well.

in the womb lays the foundation for the direct killing of the defective newborn infant. Emphasis should be placed, instead, on pre-conception counseling and on providing helping measures for families raising children with problems.

Christian counselors can play a vital role in helping couples resolve their conflicts concerning genetic inheritance.

RAPE TREATMENT TO PREVENT ABORTION

There is a growing interest in the problems of the rape victim. Abortion for rape need not be written into law since women given prompt adequate medical care will not conceive. What is most important is ready access to rapid, compassionate, nonjudgmental handling by police officials and involved medical personnel.

Aggressive and comprehensive rape prevention and treatment programs can be considered a definite alternative to abortion.

FAMILY PLANNING

Research into safe and effective ways to prevent unintended pregnancies can help to reduce the incidence of induced abortion. A wide variety of methods are presently available to enable people with varying personal beliefs to select one which is consistent with their own system of values.

Respect for the beliefs that motivate Americans to determine the size of their families should be encouraged, and the right to determine their contraceptive method protected.

Mere knowledge of the facts of usage and access to contraception is not enough to prevent unintended pregnancy. Education for both young people and others that emphasizes an understanding of the awesome responsibility of parenthood, coupled with sex education reflecting the moral and religious mores of the community in which it is taught can do much to reduce undesirable behavior and prevent promiscuity-related abortions. provide for those needs. We can use our power as citizens to win positive federal and state programs, and exercise our responsibility as members of the body to motivate and direct those in our churches who are involved with social concerns to initiate life support services. If we neglect to do so, then we must seriously ask ourselves if we are not ultimately the ones to blame, through our apathy and neglect, for the loss of many unborn infant lives and ravages upon women and families.

Dear Judy:

Thank you for your warm and understanding letter of November 19. It is indeed true that the problems which we had did get disclosed to the press. A few days ago I had a couple of long talks with somebody from the National Catholic Reporter. He was all set to make a big article about the problem that we had and I tried to play it down, I hope successfully. I think we had some unfortunate changes in the statement but we got the thing straightened up and I was a little distressed that anybody from the press would want to make a big issue of it.

I greatly appreciate your kind remarks about my work at the Congress. I think the Lord was with us in some exciting ways during that week and I am hoping that the Congress will just be a beginning for a number of followup activities during the year that is ahead.

Harold O.J. Brown, who teaches at Trinity part-time, has an office right across the hall from me so we get the opportunity to interact informally at least once or twice a week. I appreciate the work that you are doing with ACCL and look forward to further contacts in the future.

Cordjally yours,

Gary R. Collins

Special to the National Cathole Reporter WASHINGTON — Evangelical Protestants, who voted in a strongly-worded, antiabortion statement during a recent national conference, almost went home with a proabortion statement after an unidertified person changed the text moments before it went to press.

Harold Brown; visiting professor of systematic theology at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School in Deerfield, Ill., just north of Chicago, told NCR that the text was deliberately given a proabortion slant by a profreedom of choice delegate after the statement had been approved by the 2,200 perticipants at the Continental Congress cash the Family which met in St. Louis.

Fifty Protestant denominations were represented at the conference.

Brown, who served as a conference prolife consultant, called the attempted change "shocking." The original text read, "We see no grounds on which Christians, who are concerned for all human life and for the well-being of the family, can condone the free and easy practice of abortion as it now exists in our country."

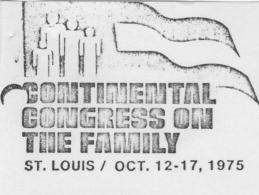

E The text was amended to read: "We generally deplore the free and easy practice."

There were other changes as well, Mala ing the text sound as if it supported the 1973. Supreme Court decision on abortion, according to Lifeletter, the newsletter of the Ad Hoc Committee in Defense of Life, Inc.

The unauthorized version, accidentally r discovered after it already had been printed, was recalled by conference chairpersone Gary Collins, professor of pastoral psychology and counseling at Trinity.

Collins confirmed the story but declined to say who changed the wording, making it clear it was the unauthorized work of one person.

Asked if the changes were a deliberate attempt to soften the text, Collins said he prefers to give the ghostwriter "the benefit of the doubt."

OVERVIEW

A specific family-related theme will be featured and followed throughout each day of the Congress. These themes or emphases are as follows:

MONDAYThe MarriageTUESDAYThe FamilyWEDNESDAYThe Man and WomanTHURSDAYThe Single PersonFRIDAYThe Church/World

Five major elements make up each day's program: (1) A practical study and devotional session with Dr. Ray Stedman, (2) The presentation of the Plenary Papers to the entire Congress, (3) Interaction Groups,

RAY STEDMAN LEIGHTON FORD

(4) Action Seminars, and (5) Special evening programs. Lunch break will precede the seminars.

Participants will meet together for the first two sessions—then proceed to small groups of about 20 for the strategy sessions. These same people will meet in the strategy sessions each morning, to provide continuity, discussion of the day's theme, and to share needs and insights for developing productive family ministries and ideas.

On four afternoons the participants may attend two seminars—selected from a choice of ten or twelve. On Friday afternoon the concluding Congress session will feature Dr. Leighton Ford.

The evening programs will include a variety of distinguished speakers and other special features—such as the premiere presentation of the new family musical, I PROMISE TO LOVE, performed by Derric Johnson and The Regeneration, and orchestrated by Ron Huff. CONTINUED ON PAGE/2000

CONGRESS ON FAMILY UNPRECEDENTED IN SCOPE

An historic call has gone out for a Continental Congress on the Family to be held in St. Louis this October on the eve of America's Bicentennial celebration.

The call for the Congress was issued by a Convening Committee of more than seventy-five individuals representing almost every facet of evangelical Christendom—including denominational groups, colleges, publishing houses, Christian organizations, and concerned clergy and laymen.

Senator Mark O. Hatfield, Honorary Chairman of the Congress, has played a significant role in advising the Congress staff, and will be one of many distinguished speakers who will address the Congress participants on this historic occasion.

The Congress will convene October 12-17, this October at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis to grapple with a variety of issues and opportunities confronting the family today. Family '76, Inc., the

CONGRESS OBJECTIVES

1. Clarify the biblical principles for marriage and family life and relate these to our present spiritual and social problems.

2. Provide a forum for dealing with the hard, real issues of shifting roles, sexual mores, divorce/remarriage, which are affecting today's family and church.

3. Awaken our Christian consciences to the special family needs of minorities, singles and the aged.

4. Share with each other successful patterns of family enrichment that God is using today.

5. Produce ideas and strategies for churches to use in revolutionizing family life in their communities.

6. Generate extensive family-help resources to be made available to pastors, churches and needy families.

catalyst for this cooperative effort, invites Christians throughout North America to join in earnest, prevailing prayer for this cooperative effort on behalf of our nation's families.

J. Allan Petersen, Executive Director of the Congress, says, "We are seeing the increasing deterioration of the family, inside and outside the church. Though cerned, I'm excited about what is happening in our day to help the family life of our churches and our nation."

The purpose of the Congress is to focus the attention of the entire church on the problems and possibilities of the family and to face them realistically. Petersen says, "We also want to provide a strategy and resources for every pastor in America to multiply the work being done through God's leadership—passing this down to the laymen themselves."

Husbands and wives are urged to attend the Congress together. Problems facing Christian families are to be worked out, using the resources available—both people and material. Practical involvement aimed at changing lives and enriching marriages is a key objective of the Congress.

"What we want to happen in the church in North America and in our society," says Dr. Lloyd Ogilvie, member of the Congress Convening Committee, "must begin with us. Our Lord desires a model of hope in what happens here. He wants to renew our relationship with Him and send us home as new people."

Dr. Gary Collins Program Director Continental Congress on the Family PO Box 14249 Omaha, Nebraska 68114

Dear Dr. Collins,

On behalf of Marjory Mecklenburg and myself, please accept our "thank-you" for scheduling a seminar on alternatives to abortion at the Continengal Congress on the Family. We are very pleased that this most pressing topic will be receiving attention at such an important gathering of Christians.

If the program has not already been printed, would it be possible for you to alter the seminar title to read rather than "Alternatives to Abortion" as referred to in your letter of August 28? The difference is a subtle one, but the message which we present is one of awakening our audience to the need for a new antigigensus positive response to the woman troubled by a problem pregnancy. The truth of the matter is that there presently exists no widely available comprehensive help for the woman who chooses to give birth. Her economic status is of little or no consideration in this situation, as the affluent college student may need the most complex services.

" Developing Alternatives to Abortion"

Our approach is one of concerned advocacy on behalf of both the mother and unborn child. For this particular seminar, we will slant the presentation toward practical responses that can be made by Christian congregations, and by the Christian acting as citizen.

The paper will be in your hands by mid-September, as requested. For your information, enclosed is a copy of the testimony which ACCL presented to Senator Birch Bayh's Subcommittee on Constitutional Amendments on June 19, 1975, discussing the role of government in abortion alternatives provision. This paper is by no means a full treatise of the subject, but it does at least touch on what we have identified to be the major problem areas.

Senator Mark Hatfield was one of the first public figures to take an active interest in prevention of abortion by means of provision of alternatives. It is fitting that at this Congress his ideas should be presented by those of us to which he has been an inspiration.

Again, please accept our gratitude for this opportunity to speak on behalf of troubled pregnant women and their babies.

Sincerely,

Judith Fink Vice President, ACCL Inc.

Abortion

We affirm our belief that God has shown us through His Word that He created unborn children in His image, recognizes their human attributes. and assigns them a place worthy of respect and protection. We acknowledge that God has admonished us to choose life instead of death, and has set penalties for those who would, even accidentally, cause a pregnant woman to be injured in such a way that an unborn child is harmed. We believe that compassion for distressed mothers and families, and concern for unborn children, requires us to offer spiritual guidance and material solace consistent with the teachings of God's Word. The intentional killing of any innocent human being at any stage of development represents a violation of the sixth commandment. However, the loss of life to the unborn which occurs as a result of medical procedures intended to save the mother's life is not to be viewed as a moral wrong, nor is it an act which should be prohibited by legislation. We see no grounds on which Christians who are concerned for all human life and for the well-being of the family can condone the free and easy practice of abortion as it now exists in our society. (Scripture citations same as original)

......

The undersigned participants in the Continental Congress on the Family respectfully submit the above revisions to the abortion section of the proposed Covenant on the Family. We believe that this revised statement is more consistent with the Scriptures cited, and reflects the position held by most evangelical Christians.

THE FAMILY COVENANT May Braniff 229 Preliminary Draft May Braniff 229 4:40

Introduction:

We, members of the church of Jesus Christ and participants in the Continental Congress on the Family, affirm our belief in the one eternal triune God who is Creator, Sustainer and Lord of the universe. We express our gratitude for His great salvation and rejoice in the fellowship He has given with Himself and with other believers. We are deeply concerned about the deteriorating state of the family. We confess we have failed to give sufficient attention to our own families. We dedicate ourselves anew to the task of strengthening families in our homes, churches, communities and nations. We affirm the divine inspiration and authority of the Bible in its entirety as the foundation on which we seek to build stronger marriages and better family relationships.

The Origin and Purpose of Marriage

We believe marriage was instituted by God at the beginning of the human race and was designed to involve the total life-long commitment of a man and woman to God and to each other. Marriage is an honorable status, involving mutual submission, companionship, love, respect, fidelity, sexual fulfillment, and procreation.

(Gen. 2:18-25; Ex. 20:14; Matt. 19:4-6; Eph. 5:21-33; I Cor. 7:1-5; I Peter 3:1-7)

The Uniqueness of Christian Marriage:

We affirm Christian marriage as a unique husband-wife relationship modeled after Christ's relationship to the church. In Christian marriage, the husband and wife become one spiritually, intellectually, emotionally, physically, and function interdependently as equals in accordance with Biblically prescribed roles. The husband is head of the wife. He is responsible to love her as Christ loved the church and he loves himself. The husband dedicates himself to the well-being of his wife, cleaves to her, provides for her, and encourages her in her God-given freedom to develop her own gifts and abilities. The husband and wife are joint heirs with Christ and share equally "in joy and in sorrow, in plenty and in want, in sickness and in health." The Christian wife subjects herself to her husband, loves him and respects him. Christian marriage is meant to be a life-long relationship between one man and one woman, indissoluble except by death.

(Matt. 19:1-12; I Cor. 7:10-15; Gal. 3:27-38; Eph. 5:21-33; I Peter 3:7; Prov. 31:10-31)

Divorce and Remarriage:

We affirm the permanence of marriage as the intent of God. We believe that divorce is contrary to God's intention for marriage, therefore, it is sin.

We affirm our belief that God has shown too To rough word. That he a hie children their attributes assigns them lace of respect and protection Horgan (-9209 roles. The husband is h loved the church and he loves himself. The husband

(Matt. 1911-12; I Cor. 7:10-15; Gal. 3:27-38; Eph. 5:21-33; I Peter 3:7; Prov. 31:10-31)

Divorce and Remarriaget

We affirm the permanence of marriage as the intent of God. We ballove that divorce is contrary to God's intention for marriage, therefore, it is sin-

Page 2.

Divorce is also a profound human tragedy leaving a legacy of anguish, bitterness, loneliness, a sense of failure, and a deep fear of close personal relations. We regret the ease with which divorces are attained and believe that easy divorce and remarriage are among the factors contributing to the breakdown of family life. We believe that reconciliation is an alternative superior to divorce. The remarriage of divorced persons is inconsistent with the plan of God for mankind, but in the opinion of some believers, may be permitted because of divine grace and as a specific manifestation of the forgiveness and new beginnings offered mankind by the Christian gospel. The church must be a community of compassion, love, healing and forgiveness for divorced, separated and remarried persons. The church must also attempt to prevent divorce by clearly and persistently setting forth the Biblical teachings on marriage and sex relations, and by providing a therapeutic community of believers. (Gen. 2:24: Matt. 19:1-9; I Cor. 7:10-14, 39; Rom. 7:2-4)

Children and Family Life

We affirm that children are a heritage from God, given in sacred trust. They are not to be abused or neglected. Children are not pawns of the church, state or parents. Every child deserves to have a warm, caring relationship with a mother and father, the opportunity to develop a healthy self-esteem through loving parents, and the opportunity to be nurtured in an environment which models christian behavior and values. We believe that the roles of parents include providing for their children's growth (mentally, physically, spiritually, and socially), and teaching them from the Word of God in a spirit of Christian love and nurture. Parents, together, are responsible to teach spiritual truth and other information by word of mouth and by example. They are to discipline in a firm, consistent, loving manner in the home. The father, under the authority of Christ, must take responsibility for family leadership, care, teaching, and discipline. The mother is to help in child rearing (but not to maintain full responsibility for it except in the absence of the father) and is to have full authority, under the husband to guide the children. The role of the child includes becoming an obedient learner who is being trained to become a mature adult able to exercise wise and responsible discernment in making moral decisions. Children are to honor their parents, to obey them as they would obey the Lord, and to care for their needs in old age. Each member of the Christian family has spiritual gifts which are to be discovered, developed, and used to glorify God and strengthen each other within the family. We deeply regret the breakdown in family closeness and order, and we urge mothers and especially fathers to resume their God-ordained roles as leaders in the home. We oppose the unhealthy influences which seek to exploit children through pornography, drug abuse, and unethical advertising. We are deeply concerned about the harmful effects of television and printed news media, the lack of discipline and poor adult example in home and school, and the breakdown of family unity and cohesion. We urge parents and schools to raise and teach children in a climate of mature love, respect and discipline. We urge churches to give priority attention to the task of equipping parents to provide homes in which the spiritual, psychological, intellectual and social development of children is of crucial importance.

(Gen. 1:27-28; Ex. 20:12; Deut. 5:16; 6:4-25; Prov. 1:8; 6:20; 10:1; 20:11; 22:6; 31:10-31; Acts 5:1-11; 18:1-4, 24-28; Rom. 16:3-5, I Cor. 11:11; Eph. 5:21-33; 6:1-4; Col. 3:20, 21, 24; Heb 5:12-14; I Tim. 5:3-4, 8; II Tim. 1:5; 3:15; Titus 2:4)

The Single Person

We agree that the single life is a valid and preferred lifestyle for many Christians and one to which many believers have been called by God. Singleness and celibacy are, for some persons, gifts from God, preferable to marriage, and conducive to greater personal and spiritual development. We agree that the local church is intended to be the family of all God's people. We urge churches and individuals to fully accept single, divorced and widowed persons into their fellowship. Segregation by age, sex, or marital status should be minimized in the church and single adults should be incorporated into every aspect of church life. We agree that leadership should be chosen on the basis of the Spirit's gifts to individuals and not on the basis of age, sex or marital status.

(Ps. 68:6; Matt. 19:12; I Cor. 7:7-8, 25-27, 32-35)

The Widowed and Elderly

We affirm that widows and widowers are to be respected, honored and accepted fully as equals in the body of believers. We are greatly disturbed by the dishonor and difficulties experienced by the aged and widowed in our society. Family members are to honor and care for the widowed, especially those who are elderly. The church also has responsibility to nurture and where feasible and appropriate, to provide for the elderly, neglected, lonely and needy in a spirit of Christian acceptance and concern. (Job 12:12; Ps. 71:9; Prov. 16:31; 23:22; I Tim. 5:1-16; Titus 2:3)

Human Sexuality

The human body and the capacity for sexual relationship, enjoyment, and reproduction are God's gifts to be received in an attitude of thanksgiving, wonder, and joyful worship. We rejoice that God created male and female as sexual beings and we affirm that sexual intercourse within marriage is good, desirable, honorable, and consistent with personal holiness. Parents are to convey such attitudes to children along with providing factual information. Parents and churches have a God-assigned responsibility to provide moral guidance by word and by example so that God's gift of sex will be used in ways honoring Jesus Christ. We deplore distorted, unbiblical and sinful sexual attitudes and practices, both within and outside of marriage, which contribute to the breakdown of the family. We resolve to resist the moral decline in our society, to teach that sex is to be enjoyed with mutual respect and fulfillment within marriage, and to proclaim that ultimate control results from Christian maturation which is brought about by the power of the Holy Spirit through the fellowship of the faithful and through happy, useful service to Christ.

(Gen. 1:26-31; Deut. 5:18 6:1-25; I Sam. 2:22; Ps. 139:13-18; Prov. 1:8-10; 5: 18-19; 6:20; 7:27; I Cor. 6:14-20, 7:1-6; Eph. 6:4; I Thes. 4:1-8; I Tim. 4:3-5; Heb. 13:4)

Homosexuality

We oppose the unjust and unkind treatment given to homosexuals by individuals, churches and society and we urge the church to accept such persons as individuals in need of support, encouragement, forgiveness and understanding. We affirm that sexual unions between members of the same sex are unbiblical and sinful, a perversion of the divine plan of the Creator. We cannot affirm attempts by homosexuals to form unisex families and oppose the adoption of children by such homosexual adults. At the same time that we acknowledge homosexual acts to be sinful, we recognize that a homosexual orientation usually results from having been sinned against and is not in itself sinful. We pledge ourselves to help those who are homosexuals to change their lifestyle in a manner that brings glory to God. (Lev. 18:22; 20:13; Rom. 1:27; I Cor. 6:9; I Tim. 1:10)

Birth Control

We acknowledge that Christians differ in their views on birth control and we respect these differences in the light of scripture's almost total silence on this subject. God, at the time of creation, commanded mankind to be fruitful and multiply and we rejoice in the birth of children as a heritage and gift from God. We are deeply concerned about the realities of overpopulation, world hunger, and the harmful effects that overpopulation can have on the environment and on individual families. We encourage Christian couples to limit the size of their families in any way that is consistent with their conscience and not at variance with Biblical teaching. We encourage Christian couples to keep family size to the number of children that can be nourished and taught effectively.

(Gen. 1:38; 38:9-10; Ps. 127:4-5; Prov. 22:6; Eph. 5:17; I Tim. 5:8)

Abortion

We acknowledge that God has admonished us to choose life instead of death, and has set penalties for those who would, even accidentally, cause a pregnant woman to be injured in such a way that an unborn child is harmed. We believe that compassion for distressed mothers and families, and concern for unborn children, requires us to offer spiritual guidance and material solace consistent with the teachings of God's Word. The intentional killing of any innocent human being at any stage of development represents a violation of the sixth commandment and can be justified only as the lesser of evils in order to save the mother's life, or in instances of rape and perhaps in some situations involving gross fetal abnormality. Abortion involves moral decisions and is not to be regarded as an act that should be sanctioned or prohibited by government legislation. We see no grounds on which Christians who are concerned for all human life and for the wellbeing of the family can condone the free and easy practice of abortion as it now exists in our society.

(Gen. 9:6; Ex. 20:21-22;) 21:14; Deut. 5:17; (30:19, 20;) Ps. 8; (139:13-18; (Jer. 1:4-5; Luke 1: 39-66; 10:30-37; Acts 10:34-35; James 2:26)

The Christian Family and the Church

We affirm that the family as a unit is not self-sufficient and self-contained as a body of believers. Rather, the family has need of continuing support from other families and from individuals within the Body. The local church is a company of believers who exist for fellowship, worship, teaching, and the development of spiritual gifts to the end that God will be glorified and the Body of Christ edified. As part of the universal Body of Christ, the local church is an extended family composed of nuclear families and individuals who are living apart from nuclear families. The church exists to support, nurture, and equip individuals and families for growth in discipleship (including evangelism) and effective functioning. We urge, therefore, that families become involved actively in the local church and that they pray, worship and serve Christ together. We urge churches to minister to families and individuals in creative ways which build church and family unity, prepare young people for mate selection and marriage, educate families in effective family living, assist family members and individuals in their spiritual and personal growth, and give support in times of stress or special need.

(Matt. 16:18; Acts 2:41-47; 4:32-35; Rom. 8:16, 17; I Cor. 6:15; Eph. 3:15; 5:30; Col. 1:18)

THE FAMILY COVENANT REACTION FORM

At the conclusion of the Continental Congress on the Family, a statement will be issued expressing our concerns and conclusions about the current state of the family. A committee has drafted the enclosed statement as a preliminary family covenant and it is being presented to participants for reaction. Please recognize that this is not the final form of the statement. During the week of the Congress, the committee will meet to read participant reactions and refine the statement for presentation to the Congress on Friday morning. In order to complete this task, the committee must have your reactions and suggestions no later than 8:30 a.m. Tuesday October 14. Thank you for your assistance.

Dr. Gary Collins Continental Congress on the Family PO Box 14249 Omaha, Nebraska 68114

Dear Gary:

It was a privelege to be part of the successful Continental Congress on the Family. Judy Fink, Jean Garton, and I found it an uplifting and positive experience. In addition, we found a great interest in our approach to the abortion problem and made many new friends and contacts with whom we hope to continue to communicate.

Your skillful handling of the emotionally charged abortion portion of the Family Covenant was one which we admired and were grateful for. We did not envy the position. You found yourself in on this issue, yet you were gracious and fair in your every conduct surrounding the statement.

We sincerely hope that the ideas and leadership shown in the St. Louis Congress will explode through the Christian community and that many more such successful conferences will be held. If we can assist you in any way do not hesitate to contact Judy, Jean or myself.

Sincerely,

Marjory Mecklenburg

PERSONAL PERSPECTIVE: Trends in the Family; 9:00-9:30 a.m., Tuesday-Friday

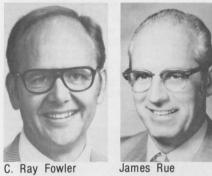

Pertinent, thought-jogging perspectives on vital family topics will be presented each weekday morning of the Congress, Tuesday through Friday.

Tuesday

DR. C. RAY FOWLER, Executive Director of the American Association of Marriage Family Counselors, will speak about commitment in marriage. Dr. Fowler is concerned about the "nowwe are, now-we-aren't" attitude which society has taken toward a commitment which needs to be regarded as permanent and unconditional.

Wednesday

DR. JAMES RUE, President and National Director of the National Alliance for Family Life will be detailing for Congress participants the problem of apathy toward a rapidly escalating divorce rate.

Thursday

REV. ROBERT DULIN, JR., Chairman of the Committee on Ministries with Black Families, of the National Council of Churches, will present his perspective entitled, "Marriage and the Responsible Church." Rev. Dulin is Minister for Educational and Family Ministries at the Metropolitan Church of God in Detroit, Michigan.

Friday

BETTY LECHNER, Executive Director of the Christian Family Movement, in Chicago, will present her personal perspective about the need for self-help programs in marriage. Ms. Lechner feels ways must be provided for lay couples to strengthen their marriages without having to seek the help of professional marriage counselors.

M.D.

"There is no such unit as a 'normal' family for the reason that there is no such being as a 'normal' person," states Dr. Hyder. He stresses that family members should strive for an "ideal" relationship, with emphasis on love as the essential ingredient which maintains communication and respect.

ADOLESCENCE, DRUGS, AND DE-LINQUENTS with Dr. Basil Jackson.

Dr. Jackson describes the dangers confronting today's nuclear-age family. He suggests how the Christian family can defend itself against the attacks of sex, drugs, automation, and permissiveness.

ABORTION with Philip Ney, M.D. (with Baiema)

Dr. Ney discusses the pros and cons of abortion from the standpoint of the many individuals involved, as well as from the legal standpoint. Factual, enlightening.

Jay Kesler states, "It is my firm belief, and one shared by many people who deal with youth, that most of life's values, conduct, temperament, attitudes toward authority, etc., have been established by the time children are teenagers." He directs his remarks to families of teens in the evangelical culture.

DEVELOPING FAMILY EMOTIONAL MATURITY with O. Quentin Hyder,

ALTERNATIVES TO ABORTION with Marjory Mecklenburg and Judith Fink

We have become an aborting society. If we really care about each other, every attempt will be made to educate and promote responsible parenthood and sexuality. We are bounded only by our imagination and the depth of our concern as we think of pro-life solutions to BIBLICAL GUIDELINES FOR HAND-LING FAMILY CONFLICT with Rev.

Rev. Sanchez illustrates how failure to deal with conflict between family members in a healthy way leads to emotional turmoil, bitterness, and re-

CHRISTIAN SEX COUNSELING with

In Genesis 2:24, God gave man a most comprehensive summary on marriage and the sexual relationship of men and women. Dr. Wheat gives detailed, clinical counsel on establishing sexual harmony for newlyweds as well as for long-time

INTEGRATING TEENS INTO FAMILY LIFE with Jay Kesler.

SPIRITUAL GIFTS—VERSUS PRE-SCRIBED ROLES IN MARRIAGE with Dr. Louis and Colleen Evans.

This seminar expresses concern about the loss of covenant and commitment relationships; society's repression of people's creative potential; and the polarization about roles ranging from radicalism to rigidity. Four theses are set forth as basic to building a strong family.

THE AGED FAMILY MEMBER AND THE CHURCH with Dr. David Moberg.

Prejudicial attitudes toward the elderly or one's own aging process, and categorical sterotyping or discrimination against the aged are a recently diagnosed social disease which is widely prevalent in American society. It lies at the core of all the issues related to the church and aged family members. Dealing with its symptoms, causes, and effects is one of the greatest specific tasks of the church.

DIVORCE AND REMARRIAGE: A FRESH, BIBLICAL VIEW with Dr. Dwight Small.

Dr. Small explains that not every ethical declaration in Scripture can be generalized to cover all periods of God's dealing with man. He presents an option based on a biblical, but less conventional exegetical approach to divorce and remarriage.

THE SINGLE WOMAN AND THE CHURCH with Rev. Joan Salmon Campbell (with McIver and LeSourd). How the doubts, fears, and loneliness encountered by a divorced woman with children were overcome with the helpful interest of concerned individual church members.

A BIBLICAL VIEW OF HOMOSEXU-ALITY with Dennis Kinlaw.

What God's Word says about the sex distinctives of men and women and the reasons for them are clearly explained. The business of the church is, as Paul suggested in II Tim. 2:25, in meekness to instruct "those that oppose themselves."

SEX INSIDE AND OUTSIDE OF MARRIAGE with David Seamands.

Covers the general and familiar aspect of sexual activity from a Christian perspective...relating them to individuals as well as to Christian parents seeking better ways of guiding their children to the deepest understanding and highest fulfillment of their sexuality.

FAMILY ENRICHMENT THROUGH THE LOCAL CHURCH with Julie Gorman.

How the God-designed institution of the Church should and can make an enriching impact on the God-designed institution of the Home. Also, the goals and program the Church can design to cause "enrichment" to take place.

That He will enable us to identify and create some practical strategies for a more

CONGRESS OBJECTIVES

1. Clarify the biblical principles for marriage and family life and relate these to our present spiritual and social problems.

2. Provide a forum for dealing with the hard, real issues of shifting roles, sexual mores, divorce/remarriage, which are affecting tóday's family and church.

3. Awaken our Christian consciences to the special family needs of minorities, singles and the aged.

4. Share with each other successful patterns of family enrichment that God is using today.

5. Produce ideas and strategies for churches to use in revolutionizing family life in their communities.

6. Generate extensive family-help resources to be made available to pastors, churches and needy families.

The Honorable Mark O. Hatfield United States Senate Washington, D.C.

Dear Senator Hatfield,

It is with pleasure that we inform you that the topic of development of alternatives to abortion will be presented at an Action Seminar at the Continental Congress on the Family on October 14, 1975.

Mr. Lon Fendel was informed of ACCL's concern that abortion alternatives had not been initially included in the program, and he was helpful in assisting us to secure the time slot. The Congress personnel were most gracious in hheir response to our request. Marjory Mecklenburg and I will be the seminar discussion leaders.

ACCL will also have an attractive information booth at the Congress.

At this important gathering of Christians, it is particularly appropriate that the ideas that you have developed and publicly regarding the prevention of abortion will be presented by people to whom you have been an inspiration. Please accept our heartfelt thanks for your interest in the problems of distressed pregnant women, their babies, and their families.

Sincerely,

Judith Fink Vice President, ACCL Inc.

ONVENTION 76

Christian Association For Psychological Studies

Western Association of Christians For Psychological Studies

Francisco Torres Conference Center Santa Barbara, Cal. June 25-29

September 1, 1975

Dear Christian Colleague:

We want to inform you of a major professional convention being planned for next June by the two major associations for evangelical Christians in the behavioral sciences and counseling professions. Convention 76 promises to be a valuable professional and personal experience for the expected 800 attendees.

We encourage you to make this your 1976 Convention priority! Please consider presenting a paper, symposium, demonstration or workshop. We want empirical, theoretical and applied presentations relating Christian perspectives to the behavioral sciences and vice versa. Some areas of focus might be ethics and human engineering, moral development, minority groups and Christian psychology, the church community, theoretical integration of Christianity and psychology, and therapeutic techniques, among others. We encourage student attendance; students may present accepted papers if they are sponsored by a regular member of CAPS or WACPS.

Charter flights at greatly reduced prices are being arranged from five cities. Room and board (unlimited seconds) will cost only $16.50 per day per person. We're planning helpful exhibits, a "Meet the Authors" night with prominent Christian psychologist/counselors, fascinating tours of Santa Barbara county, a varied and stimulating program, opportunity to renew and build friendships, and occasion for spiritual renewal.

The Francisco Torres is located about one-half mile from the public beach on the Pacific, one-half mile from shopping areas, across the street from a ninehole golf course, with beautiful views of the mountains and sea. There are camping facilities at 4 nearby state and county parks. Public transportation to and from nearby University of California and historic downtown Santa Barbara is available every 20 minutes.

We hope you'll bring your spouse (and even your family)! There will be attractive auxilary programs, and the Convention Committee encourages you to Celebrate the Bicentennial with a family vacation!

If you would like additional posters or call for programs to distribute, please write. Please spread the word and encourage others to attend. Thanks!

'Haste' at Concordia troubles Preus

Concordia College's board of control acted too hastily in accepting the resignation of college President Harvey Stegemoeller, the president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod told students at the St. Paul school this week.

At the same time, Dr. J. A. O. Preus told the students Stegemoeller should not have resigned, but should have stayed and fought out the issues with the board, now dominated by Preus' conservative supporters.

Stegemoeller, identified with synod moderates, told students at the same meeting that he resigned because he doubted that he and the new board of control could have made it together to the end of the school year in June.

"I DID not resign as a threat," he said. "My resignation was to try to preserve the peace of Concordia.

He told Stegemoeller: "I'm very grateful, Harvey. You have done a wonderful job as president of this school.

'You have conducted yourself in a responsible way and I'm only sorry for the difficulties that have befallen vou.'

STEGEMOLLER resigned when the Concordia board ordered him to implement resolutions adopted by synod's convention in July in Anaheim, Calif., that were aimed at synod moderates. He is Preus, who has headquarters in St. Louis, came to St. Paul to answer questions from both the Concordia students and faculty, meeting separately, regarding the issues raised by Stegemoeller's resignation.

In his hour-long appearance before the students, who stood and applauded when he had finished. Preus emphasized that he has no authority over boards of control of synod's colleges and seminaries.

Regional accrediting agencies insist that boards of control must have final jurisdiction over the schools they accredit, he said.

"WHILE I can admonish and rebuke, I do not have authority to 'This action must be sav: reversed.' '

In an answer to another question. Preus said he did not want to see a split in the Missouri Synod and indicated he did not foresee one

However, he warned that if the synod's doctrinal controversy continues the synod may find itself increasingly strapped financially as disenchanted members withhold their support.

"Certain auxiliary organizations prospering mightily while the synodical dollar is shrinking," he said.

Preus said the organization "strongest for splitting" is made up mostly of synod clergy.

Preus conceded there would be a split in the synod if he and other officials "came down like gangbusters on certain institutions and people."

He said he wanted to avoid "bringing lay people to an uproar." In response to another question, Preus discussed the status of Seminex, the breakaway seminary formed by faculty and students after Dr. John Tietjen was suspended as president of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis. He said the Missouri Synod cannot recognize Seminex as a synod institution unless it comes under the supervision of a synod-elected board of control.

TEACHERS at Seminex, he said, can clear themselves of a doctrinal cloud hanging over them if they meet with and satisfy a new com-(which he did not identify) are mittee he has appointed, Preus said.

Preus deplored the "trial by journalism" he said now exists in the Missouri Synod, and he criticized two publications, the moderate "Missouri in Perspective" and the conservative "Christian News," as irresponsible.

He said the key doctrinal issue before the synod is whether God inspired the Bible as free from error. He said the synod also needs to give further study to the role and function of the binding nature of resolutions adopted by synod conventions.

Preus said the Missouri Synod remains in altar and pulpit fellowship with the American Lutheran Church, but he said the ALC had strained that fellowship by ordaining women as pastors and by injecting itself into internal problems of the Missouri Synod.

'EASY' ABORTION IS CONDEMNED

"Free and easy" abortion was condemned in a statement issued on the last day of the Continental Congress on the Family, conducted in St. Louis, Mo., under largely evangelical auspices.

The affirmation on the family also described homosexuality as "unbiblical and sinful" and called divorce "contrary to God's intention.

The statement was drafted by a six-member committee headed by Dr. Gary Collins, professor at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, Deerfield, Ill., and the congress program director.

A spokesman said the statement was "merely a consensus of our efforts and hopes" and not the final word on an evangelical approach to family issues.

An early draft of the statement said "divorce is sinful," but the final version omitted that direct statement, instead calling divorce "contrary to God's intention for marriage" and a "profound human tragedy.'

Remarriage of divorced persons, the statement said, is "inconsistent with the plan of God ... but in the opinion of some believers" it "may be permitted because of divine grace and as a specific manifestation of the forgiveness and new beginnings offered mankind by the Christian gospel.

The affirmation lamented "the breakdown in family closeness and 15 order" and urged "mothers and es-15 pecially fathers to resume their God-ordained roles as leaders in the home."

It expressed deep concern about the "harmful effects" of television, films, and the printed news media, and the "lack of discipline and poor adult example" in homes and schools.

BOB MUMFORD, a prominent ader in the charismatic movent, has been dropped from the Ogram of the Second World Conference on the Holy Spirit in Jerusalem because of his role in the controversy ever "shepherding" and "disciplining" in the movement.

The "shepherding" controversy revolves around the concept of a male spiritual leader taking authority over the personal and religious lives of those who submit to him. The shepherd's job is called "discipling," and involves helping others grow to Christian maturity.

Mumford and his asociates in the C h r i s t i a n Growth Missionaries based in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., have been the major advocates of the "shepherding" concept. Other charismatic leaders have criticized the rigid submission to authority involved in the practice.

Mumford was dropped by Logos International, sponsor of the conference in Jerusalem, after broadcaster Pat Robertson and evangelist Kathryn Kuhlman threatened to withdraw if Mumford remained on the program.

Robertson, president of the Christian Broadcasting Network, informed his staff in a memo last May that "our board of directors is unalterably opposed to a charismatic dictatorship where self-appointed elders begin to take unscriptural control of the lives of others, thereby usurping the role of the Holy Spirit and Jesus Christ Himself."

Mumford was a speaker at the International Lutheran Conference on the Holy Spirit in Minneapolis in August and was scheduled to speak early this month at a regional Catholic charismatic conference in St. Paul. That appearance was canceled because of a death in Mumford's family.

AUXILIARY BISHOP Raymond A. Lucker of the Archdiocese of St. Paul-Minneapolis is expected by many to be appointed bishop of the Crookston, Minn., Roman Catholic Diocese. Bishop Kenneth Povish, now the Crookston bishop, is being transferred to the Diocese of Lansing, Mich., it was announced this week.

If Lucker left, it probably would mean that at least two auxiliary bishops would be named for the local archdiocese.

The St. Paul-Minneapolis archdiocese, which once had an archbishop, an archbishop coadjutor and two auxiliary bishops, now has one archbishop (John R. Roach) and one auxiliary (Lucker). Roach had been the other auxiliary before his appointment as archbishop.

Among those being mentioned for possible future auxiliary appointments are Monsignor Terrence J. Murphy, president of the College of St. Thomas, St. Paul; the Rev. Kenneth J. Pierre, rector of St. John Vianney Seminary, St. Paul, and current chairman of the priests' senate of the archdiocese, and the Rev. Edward Flahavan, director of the archdiocese urban affairs commission.
