

The original documents are located in Box 2, folder “9/22/74 - Dinner given by Sylvan Marshall” of the Sheila Weidenfeld Files at the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library.

Copyright Notice

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Gerald R. Ford donated to the United States of America his copyrights in all of his unpublished writings in National Archives collections. Works prepared by U.S. Government employees as part of their official duties are in the public domain. The copyrights to materials written by other individuals or organizations are presumed to remain with them. If you think any of the information displayed in the PDF is subject to a valid copyright claim, please contact the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library.

By Joe Helberger—The Washington Post

Eating out in the yard, clockwise from left, Rep. John Rhodes, Sylvan Marshall, First Lady Betty Ford Mrs. Rhodes, President Ford and Mrs. Marshall.

A Late Dinner

By Dorothy McCardle

"I want to open up this country to the whole world," President Ford said last night as he discussed his ideas on American foreign policy over super in a garden on Ellicott Street, NW.

"I don't want any country to ever feel it does not have some one to whom to talk," he added.

Mr. Ford was eating a late dinner at the buffet supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Marshall for their long-time friends, John J. Rhodes, minority leader of the House, and Mrs. Rhodes. The Marshalls, Rhodeses and Fords were seated together at a round table in the almost deserted garden.

By the time the Fords arrived at 8 p.m., many of the 250 guests had gone home.

See RHODES, B6, Col. 3

Wash Post 9/28/74 p 81

Washington Star-News

Monday, Sept. 23, 1974

Section C M★

portfolio

- People
- Music
- The Arts
- Chess

Lots of Handshakes Were Ford's Appetizers

By Ymelda Dixon

Special to the Star-News

It was nearly 8 p.m. when President and Mrs. Ford arrived at a 6:30 buffet supper given by the Sylvania able to report to their foreign ministers that they had met the President at an informal gathering.

Austrian Ambassador Arno Halusa was introduced four times; Czech Ambassador Dusan Spacil reaf-