Dear Ms. Grigg,

How much I appreciated your gracious letter telling of the finalization of the date of September 8th for the initiation of the Betty Ford Fashion Scholarship sponsored by the Washington Fashion Group. If this scholarship can indeed expand the horizons of young people interested in careers in fashion, I shall indeed be greatly honored to have my name associated with so worthwhile an endeavor. Although it is unlikely my autumn commitments will permit me to be with you on September 8th, I have noted the date on my working calendar and will be in communication with you closer to the date.

Dear Mrs. Ford:

The Washington Fashion Group is honored that we shall be able to give scholarships in your honor.

The event, Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. also previews the opening of Bloomingdale's in our community. "Windows On The World" is a fitting theme for the black tie event.

We hope to net at least $20,000 for the fashion scholarships for qualified Washington area students. These will be administered by a scholarship committee of members of The Washington Fashion Group. It is a skilled group of professional women who work with the educational leaders in our town.

We would be thrilled if you could find time to drop by, even for an hour that evening, to share the gala with us. Your presence would "make" the evening for all those who have worked so hard and for those who will attend the event.

I must pass on to you a bit of a conversation I had with a young person the other day. This small voice inquired how could she qualify for The Betty Ford Fashion Scholarships. I told her the guidelines were being outlined at the present and would be happy to notify her when completed. "I'm in my first year of high school", she added. How's that for being a motivating force in a young person's life?

My best to you, The President, and your family.

Fashion Education Scholarship Named in Honor of Betty Ford

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—A fashion scholarship has been established to honor Betty Ford.

"The Betty Ford Fashion Scholarships" will help pay tuition for qualified students in fashion education, according to The Washington Fashion Group, a local branch of an international, noncommercial association of women engaged in fashion fields.

Margy Grigg, regional director of the group, said today that the scholarships had been named for the President's wife because she "has focused great attention on a great American fashion industry by spotlighting its talented designers through her wearing of American clothes in all price ranges."

Betty Ford Fashion Scholarships

Establishment of the Betty Ford Fashion Scholarships to provide tuition for qualified students wishing to further their fashion education was announced today by the Washington Fashion Group.

Margy Grigg, regional director, said Betty Ford will attend the black-tie preview opening of Bloomingdale's "Windows on the World," tomorrow night at Tyson's Corners.

Grigg pointed out, "Mrs. Ford has focused great attention on a great American fashion industry by spotlighting its talented designers through her wearing of American clothes in all price ranges. Many designers have been included on White House guest lists, indicating the First Lady is proud of American Fashion. She has been a tremendous motivating force for young people in all the arts — and certainly fashion is to be counted among them."

The Fashion Group Inc. is an international, non-commercial association of women engaged in fashion fields. One of their major aims is to inspire a keener interest in the fashion industries through education.

Washington area students who have completed two years of work in an accredited junior college or university and have demonstrated an interest in fashion or fashion-related fields, through education, work or avocation may qualify for either undergraduate or graduate study. Virginia Ogilvy is chairman of the Betty Ford Fashion Scholarship.

REVISED REMARKS, Washington Fashion Group/Bloomingdale's,
September 8, 1976

Thank you to the American Fashion Group for this very meaningful honor.

These scholarships will help educate young people for a career in American fashion. I know first-hand what an important and exciting industry fashion is, and the future winners will participate in this creative and dynamic business.

but now Americans ^{can} no longer look ^{to our own designers} to Europe for ideas and inspiration, ~~because~~ ^{they do} our very own designers ^{reflect} express our individuality, ^{lifestyles & needs} energy and optimism for us. ^{our many interests} are captured in the variety of American fashions.
Someday soon, I expect to wear clothes designed, made or merchandised by the recipients of these scholarships---just as I now take great pride in wearing today's American design.

Thank you, Bloomingdale's, for this marvelous evening. Again, thanks to the American Fashion Group. We all share an admiration for our expressive and growing American fashion industry, which has grown because of the interest of people like all of you.

Fashion Education Scholarship Named in Honor of Betty Ford

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—A fashion scholarship has been established to honor Betty Ford.

"The Betty Ford Fashion Scholarships" will help pay tuition for qualified students in fashion education, according to The Washington Fashion Group, a local branch of an international, noncommercial association of women engaged in fashion fields.

Bernhard's Trip to U.S. Is Believed Grounded

The Hague, Netherlands — Plans for a bicentennial visit to the United States by PRINCE BERNHARD, implicated in the Lockheed bribe scandal, and QUEEN JULIANA are "being quietly dropped," according to reports. Prime Minister JOOP den UYL had announced in April that a royal visit by the queen and her consort was under consideration. The Associated Press, quoting well-informed sources, said yesterday that there was a "growing impression" here that there

Hood River, Ore. — ROY WEBSTER, 75, said the 62-degree water was the coldest he could recall but he still finished the annual Labor Day mile swim across the Columbia River. Webster was the oldest of 159 participants — all but six of whom swam the mile. He said he had been swimming the river for 34 years.

Assisi, Italy — San Francisco, Calif., and this central Italian city became twin cities Monday when WIL-

Zulfikar Ali Bhutto (left) and Prince Bernhard.

LIAM J. ARMANINO, representing San Francisco Mayor GEORGE R. MOSCONE, presented the keys to the California city to Assisi Mayor ENZO BOCCACCI, a Communist-supported Christian Democrat. The local Communist Party branch presented Armanino with a map of Assisi in the Middle Ages. The California city is named for St. Francis, a 13th-century saint who was born in Assisi.

London — Pakistan Prime Minister

Zulfikar Ali Bhutto has asked the British government to return the 109-carat Koh-i-noor diamond, acquired by Britain after the 1849 annexation of the Punjab, now part of Pakistan. The 1,000-year-old diamond is the central stone in the queen consort's crown, part of the crown jewels that are displayed in the Tower of London. British officials said the request would be discussed soon during a meeting of Prime Minister JAMES CALLAGHAN with QUEEN ELIZABETH.

Mobile, Ala. — JEFF CARTER, 22-year-old son of Democratic presidential candidate JIMMY CARTER, says that although he has tried marijuana, "I don't recommend it to anybody." Commenting on his mother's disclosure last week that her three sons had smoked marijuana but had given it up, Jeff said: "I don't know why she said it. I wish she hadn't."

Wednesday night, the retail social season got off to a fast start as Bonwit Teller set off a rocket of a party, starring the Missons, followed by another burst at Saks Fifth Avenue where Castelbajac and his collection stirred things up under a panoply of parachutes. Meanwhile, same night, Bloomingdale's launched its Tysons Corner store in Washington with a black-tie fund-raiser featuring Betty Ford. On these pages, some of the fun-makers.
