MEMORANDUM FOR: FORD ADVOCATES
FROM: COMMUNICATIONS OFFICE
SUBJECT: KANSAS CITY TALKING POINTS

Stu Spencer has asked that these materials be sent to you for your personal use during the next few days.

TALKING POINTS

1. A pronounced shift in psychology and enthusiasm has occurred this past week in Kansas City. The President's forces are up, his adversaries down. A procession of Presidential wins in the key Convention Committees -- Rules and Platform -- has shown not simply a clear Presidential edge in delegate strength, but also superior discipline, better organization, tight unity, plus also a rising determination on the part of all delegates to prevent a Party blood bath that could cost the election.

2. Every sign points to a Presidential victory Wednesday night. Independent analysts (e.g. Newsweek's August 16th issue) now agree with conservative Ford estimates of enough delegates to win and a nearly 100 vote margin over Governor Reagan. In recent days Reagan maneuvers have told the same story -- an increasing frenzy of desperate thrusts striving for last-minute confusion, disruptions and delays that might steal away a few Ford partisans. The Vice President gambit to force the President's hand was as desperate as the ill-fated Schweicker choice which forced the gambit. The Platform Committee failures forced the Rules Committee struggles which also having failed appear likely to force a last stand on the Convention floor.

3. So the ambience of Kansas City is basically healthy and heartening: clearly, a Presidential win impends; clearly, irreparable Party rights have thus far been averted; clearly, a campaign-seasoned candidate, President Ford, will go forth with the backing of united and invigorated Republicans all across the country. The augury is therefore, a good one, despite the temporary Carter-Mondale lead in public opinion polls.

4. The augury is good because the President has been a good President -- because he personifies decency and honesty -- because he has restored confidence in White House integrity -- because, after all, America is at peace and is prospering, and the record of achievement is a proud one.

5. And this is a propitious time because Mr. Carter can only shrivel in public esteem. His national inexperience is a conceded fact -- and we have learned before the cost of on-the-job training in the Presidency. His equivocations and straddles and contradictions are approaching a national joke, except that the public won't let him reach election day without declaring himself. And as he does, his self-inflated balloon will collapse.

6. So we Ford partisans are all upbeat, and very soon all Republicans the Reaganites too, will feel the same way. For we're to have a great candidate with a great record, and a vulnerable, inexperienced opponent. We're on to victory in November 1976.

7. One-liners

a. On Ford's Vice President choice: Don't worry about it; the person he picks is bound to be left of Reagan and right of Schweicker, so we'll all be content.

b. On timing of Vice Presidential choice: The effort of the Reagan forces only shows that misery loves company.

c. On Platform fights on the floor: Nothing devastating in store; some sparring, perhaps, but reason will prevail.

d. On Buckley: He draws down on Reagan, not Ford.

e. On President's campaigning ability: He'll do just fine; I'll put my money on his everyman frankness as against Carter's deliberate fuzz. And I'll choose his national experience over peanut farming.

COST OF CARTER'S PLATFORM

The Carter program includes something for everyone--including the taxpayer. Not surprisingly, everyone has been told what's in the Carter program for them -- except the taxpayer.

Carter says he will never tell a lie -- but he hasn't committed to tell the people the whole truth -- and, so far, he hasn't.

The whole truth is that the Carter program would require a huge tax increase -- exactly how much is difficult to determine because Carter "commitments" often turn to mush when they are examined carefully -- you may think you heard him make a commitment, but when you examine the words carefully you discover he left himself a loophole -- a way to say later on -- to a different group -- I didn't really mean it.

Even with this difficulty, it is possible to put a price tag on part of the Carter program.

New taxpayers payments to the Federal Government for just 5 of the 62 new spending "commitments" by Carter comes to $103.3 billion; which would mean a 51% increase in individual and corporate income taxes.

The five programs and their estimated costs are:

(First Full Year Federal Expenditures)

	Billions
Mondale/Brademus Child Development Program	$1.1
Humphrey/Hawkins	$10.3
Kennedy/Corman, National Health Insurance	$70
Griffith's negative income tax	$9.9
Perkins, education equalization bill	$12.0
	$103.3

If candidate Carter doesn't agree with these estimates he should tell us what his estimates are, and while he's at it, he should tell us what his other programs will do to the taxpayers.

MEMORANDUM

TO: CAUCUS TEAM MEMBERS

FROM: ROGERS MORTON, Chairman Rogers Morton

RE: CAUCUS TEAM ACTIVITIES IN KANSAS CITY

We appreciate your willingness to join a PFC caucus team which will visit selected state delegations during the Kansas City convention. Knowledgeable, enthusiastic advocates for the President will help guarantee a first-ballot victory.

As the program was explained to your office, the purpose of these visits is to inform the delegates about Gerald R. Ford -- his record as President, his character, his ability to win in November.

Each team will make a presentation of approximately 30 minutes and then be available for questions and answers from the delegates. Informal mixing with the delegates will either precede or follow each visit to permit personal contact.

Caucus team size will vary from three to five individuals, and could include a Cabinet officer, Senator, Governor, Congressman or First Family member as participants.

Due to the intricacies of scheduling as many as fifty caucus team members into approximately 37 states over a four-day period, it is imperative that your commitment to the program maintain a high priority. We ask your cooperation because re-recruiting substitutes at the last minute will be extremely difficult, if not impossible. The state delegations have expressed considerable enthusiasm about this program, and we must deliver on our commitments. The PFC caucus team program is one of the most important activities that will be taking place in Kansas City.

We are currently finalizing caucus teams and matching those teams to states. You may already have been asked for a specific time commitment on Sunday evening or on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday. As these assignments are completed, we will furnish you briefing materials on the state delegation, a schedule and the names of the other team members.

Morton Memo

Enclosed is a form which we would appreciate you filling out so that we might more readily contact you or your staff members while in Kansas City. Please return the form to Grace Tyler here at the PFC as soon as possible.

Also enclosed is ~~some~~ briefing material on the Administration's accomplishments for the past two years, which can be incorporated with ~~the~~ supplemental material we will provide.
