See ATTACHED
#1

As there is no official function scheduled for you until the evening (8:00pm), I thought that you might wish to rest in the morning, then possibly window shop and sightsee with Mrs. Firestone, perhaps stopping for lunch at a local restaurant where you could be joined by Mrs. Bruce and Mrs. Greenwald. I would appreciate the opportunity of talking with you about this.

- 8:00pm Attend the Queen Elizabeth Music Competitions, at the Borgia Palace (hosted by Queen Fabiola).
- dress: to be determined by the Palace.

8:00pm - The President will attend a black tie working dinner with the King, at the Royal Palace.

THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. FORD'S VISIT TO BRUSSELS, BELGIUM

WEDNESDAY - MAY 28, 1975

DAY # 1

Departure: 7:25 a.m.

From: Terry O'Donnell
TOD

BACKGROUND

ANDREWS AIR FORCE BASE DEPARTURE

Upon arrival at Andrews AFB, you will be met by Ambassador Sevilla Sacassa, Dean of the Diplomatic Corps, and escorted to a position adjacent to Air Force One to make a brief departure statement which will be carried "live" by the network morning shows.

Susan and Janet Ford, who will have accompanied you from the White House on the helicopter, and Ambassador Sevilla Sacassa will bid farewell at the base of the ramp.

ARRIVAL CEREMONY, BRUSSELS, BELGIUM

You will be met at Zaventem Airport by King Baudouin and Queen Fabiola along with other key Belgian and U.S. diplomatic officials. After pausing for the Anthem's, you will review the troops and deliver a brief arrival statement.

You will then be escorted to a special airport lounge where you and Mrs. Ford will meet Prime Minister Tindemans, Belgian legislative leaders, officials of NATO, SHAPE, and senior members of the U.S. Embassy, U.S. NATO Mission and the U.S. EEC Delegation.

ROYAL PALACE MEETINGS

Following the arrival ceremony, you will depart via motorcade for the Royal Palace. You will ride with the King. Mrs. Ford will arrive with the Queen.

At the Royal Palace, you and Mrs. Ford will pay a 10-15 minute "courtesy call" on the King and Queen.

You will then adjourn to another room to meet with Prime Minister Tindemans, Foreign Minister van Elslande and Secretary Kissinger. Mrs. Ford will depart for the Embassy residence immediately after the courtesy call.

The Royal Palace was built in the 1700's and subsequently enlarged and remodeled. It is the official residence for State functions and ceremonial occasions and houses the offices of the Court. The King and Queen do not reside in the Royal Palace, however. The Laeken Palace is the residence of the Royal Family.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. FORD'S VISIT TO BRUSSELS, BELGIUM

THURSDAY - MAY 29, 1975

DAY # 2

From: Terry O'Donnell ^{TD}

BILATERAL MEETINGS

You will remain at the Embassy Residence for a major part of the day to conduct bilateral meetings with six Heads of Government. The sequence is as follows:

8:15 a. m.	Breakfast with Prime Minister Thorn of Luxembourg (60 minutes)
9:30 a. m.	Prime Minister Caramanlis of Greece (75 minutes)
11:30 a. m.	Prime Minister Demiral of Turkey (75 minutes)
1:30 p. m.	Luncheon with Chancellor Schmidt of Germany (75 minutes)
3:05 p. m.	Prime Minister Jorgensen of Denmark (20 minutes)
3:30 p. m.	Prime Minister Goncalves of Portugal (45 minutes)

The format for all these meetings will be basically the same. You alone will greet the Head of Government at his car in front of the Embassy Residence and pause for a brief press photograph. You will then escort your guest to the Residence foyer to meet Secretary Kissinger and General Scowcroft. Here you will also be introduced to the other meeting participants that arrive with the Head of Government.

THURSDAY - MAY 29, 1975 - Continued

Following the introductions in the foyer, you will escort the Head of Government to the dining room or the meeting room, as appropriate. Secretary Kissinger and General Scowcroft will escort their counterparts.

For all bilaterals held in the meeting room, the press photos will be in two parts: First, you and the Head of Government will be seated alone. Then, after a minute or two, Secretary Kissinger, General Scowcroft and their counterparts will join you and the Head of Government for the last part of the photo session.

For the breakfast and luncheon meetings, there will be no separate photo of you and the Head of Government. All the participants will be photographed together.

NATO MEETING

Immediately after Prime Minister Goncalves' departure, you depart the Residence via motorcade en route NATO for the opening ceremony and the First Ordinary Session.

NATO Headquarters was established in Brussels in 1967 after it had been decided to move the Headquarters from Paris. The complex is situated on a 50-acre site and houses all 15 NATO delegations and staff - about 3,000 in all.

The 30-minute Opening Ceremony will be covered by the press. You will not deliver remarks. Following the ceremony, you proceed to an adjacent foyer for the traditional official group photograph ("family photograph") of the NATO Heads of Government and the Foreign Ministers.

The 50-minute Ordinary Session will be closed to press and guests. Other U.S. participants will be Secretary Kissinger, Ambassador Bruce, Mr. Rumsfeld, Mr. Sonnenfeldt and General Scowcroft. Your remarks will conclude the program.

GREETING OF EMBASSY AND EEC MISSION STAFF

Upon your return to the Embassy, you will greet the members of the Embassy and the U.S. EEC Mission Staff and dependents, including the Belgian nationals employed at the Embassy, then proceed to your quarters for personal time.

THURSDAY - MAY 29, 1975 - Continued

KING'S DINNER (BLACK TIE)

Upon receiving word from the Royal Palace that the other Heads of Government have arrived (the Belgians have requested that you arrive last), you will depart the Residence for the King's Dinner at the Royal Palace. You will meet a few minutes with the King, Prince Albert and President Giscard d'Estaing before being introduced to the Belgian Cabinet and taking part in a photo session with the Heads of Government. At the dinner the King will offer a toast and Secretary General Luns will respond.

After the dinner you and President Giscard d'Estaing will adjourn to a separate room in the Palace for a private meeting. Following this meeting, you will return to the Embassy.

MRS. FORD'S SCHEDULE

Mrs. Ford has the morning and afternoon free. She will depart the Embassy at 6:30 p.m. for the Queen's dinner at Laeken Palace, then depart with the Queen for the Palais des Beaux Arts Queen Elizabeth Piano Competition. She will return to the Embassy Residence at 10:10 p.m.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. FORD'S VISIT TO EUROPE
BRUSSELS, BELGIUM AND MADRID, SPAIN

SATURDAY - MAY 31, 1975

DAY # 4

From: Terry O'Donnell

DEPARTURE FROM BRUSSELS, BELGIUM

At 7:32 p. m. , Ambassador and Mrs. Firestone will meet you in the Embassy Residence foyer for a brief photograph, following which they will accompany you in your car to Zaventem Airport. Although Ambassador and Mrs. Greenwald, Ambassador and Mrs. Bruce, Ambassador DeStaercke and several others will be on hand to bid you farewell, there will be no departure ceremony.

MADRID ARRIVAL

You will be met at Barajas Airport by Generalissimo and Mrs. Franco and Prime Minister and Mrs. Carlos Arias along with other key Spanish and U. S. officials. After pausing for the Anthems, you will review the troops and deliver a brief arrival statement.

Accompanied by Generalissimo Franco, you will motorcade to Cibeles in Madrid where the Mayor of Madrid will present you the Key to the City and you make brief thank-you remarks. A large crowd is expected to be on hand. At the conclusion of the ceremony, you and Generalissimo Franco board an open-top car, the motorcade is joined by a mounted Spanish ceremonial military escort, and you move at a slow pace through the streets of downtown Madrid. Due to the health of the Generalissimo, it is not expected that he will stand, although this possibility is not ruled out.

Generalissimo and Mrs. Franco will escort you to Moncloa Palace which is to be your residence while in Madrid. The name Moncloa derives from the originally wooded area on which the palace is located. The area belonged to the city and the convent of San Jeronimo el Real and was acquired in 1606 by the Spanish Crown. In 1781 the properties belonged to the widow Duchess of Arcos, who is credited with rebuilding and clearing out all the grounds.

In 1918 the palace was completely restored and converted into a museum of that time period. During the civil war of 1936-39, the palace was completely destroyed as it formed part of the front lines and was continually attacked and occupied in the battles in that part of Madrid. A new building was constructed between 1946-53, by order of Franco, and placed near the old site. The palace is utilized as the official residence for important personalities and chiefs of state who visit Spain.

HEAD TO HEAD MEETING WITH GENERAL FRANCO

At 1:15 p. m. , you will arrive El Pardo Palace for a head to head meeting with Generalissimo Franco. at El Pardo Palace. Mrs. Ford will accompany you and will have lunch with Mrs. Franco. The duration of the meeting is expected to be about forty minutes.

Since the Middle Ages, the palace of El Pardo has been a royal residence for the Castilian monarchs. In 1505 Enrique III built the first royal house which was subsequently destroyed by Carlos V who, in 1543, ordered the construction of the palace which was completed around 1568 by Felipe II. In 1604 a fire destroyed almost the entire palace and Felipe III ordered its immediate reconstruction which took little more than a year for completion. In 1880 the palace was restored in part. During the civil war of 1936-39, the palace suffered serious damage. After the war, the Pardo was renovated, newly decorated and converted into the official residence of the Chief of State.

WORKING LUNCHEON AT MONCLOA PALACE

Following your head to head meeting with Generalissimo Franco, you will return to Moncloa Palace accompanied by Prime Minister Arias where you will host a working luncheon for 24 U. S. and Spanish dignitaries. Following luncheon in the Salon de Columnas, you will offer a toast to which Prime Minister Arias will respond. The luncheon concludes at 3:30 p. m.

MEETING WITH PRINCE JUAN CARLOS AND PRINCESS SOFIA

At 5:00 p. m. , you and Mrs. Ford proceed to the front entrance of the Moncloa Palace to greet Prince Juan Carlos and Princess Sofia. After a brief conversation, you escort Prince Juan Carlos to the Palace Library where Secretary Kissinger joins you for a brief meeting. Mrs. Ford escorts Princess Sofia to the Salon de Cafe for refreshments and private conversation. The Prince and Princess depart Moncloa Palace at 5:35 p. m.

GREETING OF U. S. EMBASSY STAFF
STATE DINNER AT ROYAL PALACE (BLACK TIE)

At 8:35 p. m. , you and Mrs. Ford depart your quarters en route the Salon de Columnas where some 350 employees of the U. S. Embassy will be on hand. The group includes U. S. and Spanish nationals and their dependents. You will make brief welcoming remarks, and depart en route the Royal Palace.

The Royal Palace, also known as the "Oriental Palace" sits on a bluff overlooking the Manzanares River valley on the western edge of Madrid. The name Oriental Palace derives from the Arab fortress (Alcazar) and the subsequent kings of Trastamara who converted the structure from an alcazar into a residence.

King Felipe II moved the royal court to Madrid in 1561 and the palace served as the royal residence until December 24, 1734, when a great fire completely destroyed it. Felipe V ordered that a new palace be built on the same location as before. Construction continued through the reign of Felipe Vi, and with the dedicated guidance of Charles III, the palace was finished December 17, 1864. However, the work continued for 26 more years, and the palace and grounds as they are seen today were completed in 1891. Today the palace is used primarily for official ceremonial functions, such as tonight's state dinner.

Following dinner in the State Dining Room, Generalissimo Franco offers a toast, to which you respond. At the conclusion of the toasts, you move to the Salon de Conciertos for a string concert.

You and Mrs. Ford return to the Moncloa Palace at approximately 11:30 p. m.

WASHINGTON

THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. FORD'S VISIT TO EUROPE

SALZBURG, AUSTRIA; ROME, ITALY AND RETURN TO WASHINGTON.

TUESDAY - JUNE 3, 1975

DAY # 7

From: Terry O'Donnell

SALZBURG DEPARTURE

At 7:25 a.m., you and Mrs. Ford board motorcade and depart Schloss Klessheim en route Salzburg Airport. Chancellor and Mrs. Kreisky will meet you at the airport, you review the honor guard, and after bidding the Governor of Salzburg and his wife, and the Mayor of Salzburg and his wife farewell at the foot of the ramp, you board Air Force One and depart en route Ciampino Airport, Rome, Italy. The flying time is 1 hour, 15 minutes with a time change of + 1 hour.

ROME AIRPORT ARRIVAL

Upon arrival at Ciampino Airport at 10:00 a.m., you will be met by Ambassador and Mrs. Orlandi Contucci, Chief of Protocol, Ambassador and Mrs. John Volpe, and two Italian Air Commanders. After pausing for the Anthems, you will review the honor guard, following which you board a helicopter and depart for Piazza Quirinale. Ambassador and Mrs. Contucci will be guests aboard your helicopter.

QUIRINALE PALACE ARRIVAL

Upon arrival at Quirinale Palace, you are met by President and Mrs. Leone, escorted inside the gate where you introduce President and Mrs. Leone to the U.S. official party, then proceed out into the Palace courtyard where you stand at attention in front of the flags for the playing of the anthems. After reviewing the troops, President Leone will introduce you to a group of high officials of the Italian Government and several members of the Palace staff who are stationed in a Loggia (glass enclosed porch).

Quirinale Palace is the official residence of the President of Italy and stands on the highest of the Seven Hills of Rome. In ancient Roman times, the temples of Quirinus and the Sun were located on this site. In the center of the present Quirinale Piazza or square are Roman statues of Castor and Pollus, the twin sons of Jupiter in Graeco-Roman mythology.

Facing the square is the oldest and principal building of the Palace which was begun by Pope Gregory VII in 1583 and completed by Pope Paul V in 1610. For three centuries thereafter it served as the summer palace of the Popes during which period additional buildings were added to the original structure. The original 16th century palace is where official ceremonies are now held.

The Quirinale was looted by French Revolutionary troops when they occupied Rome in 1798. It then became the residence of the Roman Republic and was again occupied by the French in 1808 when they arrested Pope Pius VII. The palace was extensively remodeled to receive Napoleon who, however failed to come to Rome. In 1814, the Napoleonic apartments were occupied by the Emperor of Austria as the guest of then restored Pope Pius VII. After the Pope fled to Gaeta during the 1848-49 Revolution and Roman Republic, the Republican leader Giuseppe Mazzini lived for a time in one of the many rooms of the Manica Lunga.

In 1946 with the abolition of the monarchy, and after the war, the palace became the official residence of the President of the Italian Republic, which it remains today.

After pausing briefly in an antechamber for the press to reposition, you proceed to the garden terrace where President Leone makes welcoming remarks, and you respond. Upon conclusion of your remarks, President and Mrs. Leone escort you and Mrs. Ford to the Presidential Apartments, bid you farewell and depart.

HEAD TO HEAD MEETING WITH PRESIDENT LEONE

After a fifteen-minute interval, Ambassador Contucci will arrive at the Presidential apartments and escort you to the Sala di Druso for a 30-minute head to head meeting with President Leone. You then join an expanded counterparts meeting for 60-minutes.

STATE LUNCHEON

At 1:40 p.m., President and Mrs. Leone arrive at the Presidential apartments to escort you and Mrs. Ford to the Salone delle Feste to attend a State luncheon. You stop en route to greet the family and children of President and Mrs. Leone in the Sala del Parati Piemontesi.

Upon reaching the luncheon location, you and Mrs. Ford and President and Mrs. Leone pass down two receiving lines, one consisting of high Italian government officials and the other of the U.S. official party and luncheon guests. Following the dessert course, President Leone offers a toast, to which you respond. The luncheon concludes at 3:30 p.m. and you return to the Presidential apartments.

QUIRINALE PALACE DEPARTURE

At 4:05 p.m., you depart the Presidential apartments en route Sala del Brustolon where you are joined by President Leone and you continue together down the Stairway of Honor. You review the honor guard in the courtyard, board your motorcade and depart Quirinale Palace en route Villa Madama for a head to head meeting with Prime Minister Moro.

MEETING WITH PRIME MINISTER MORO

Upon arrival at Villa Madama, you are met at curbside by Prime Minister Moro, President of the Council of Ministers, who escorts you inside for a 50-minute meeting.

Villa Madama located on the outskirts of Rome owes its name to Madame Margherita of Austria, daughter of Emperor Charles V, who owned and lived in it during the reign of Pope Paul III Farnese (1534-1549).

Its construction, however, dates from the early 16th century in the Pontificate of Leo X. The villa was built for the Pope's cousin who later himself became Pope Clement VII. The overall plan and some details are to be attributed to Raphael.

At the conclusion of your meeting with Prime Minister Moro, Mrs. Ford joins you and you proceed en route Vatican City, by motorcade. Ambassador Lodge will accompany you and Mrs. Ford in your car.

AUDIENCE WITH THE POPE AT THE VATICAN

The Vatican City State is the world's smallest sovereign nation and occupies only 109 acres. In addition to his principal duties as the head of the Roman Catholic Church, Pope Paul VI is also the sovereign of the Vatican City where he has supreme executive and legislative powers. In practice, however, the Pope delegates authority to a board of four cardinals who, in turn have invested everyday government of the small territory to a special delegate, presently Marchese Giulio Sacchetti. A major task is the upkeep and management of the Vatican museums, various monuments and the large Vatican gardens which cover most of the territory. The Vatican issues its own stamps and coins, and while it has its own courts system, by agreement most offenders are turned over to Italy for trial.

On the way to the Vatican, you pass through St. Peter's Square surrounded by Bernini's famous colonnade and enter the city through the Arch of the Bells, just to the left of St. Peter's Basilica. Your motorcade then winds slowly around St. Peter's - a 16th century masterpiece of Italy's greatest architects -- Bramante, Michelangelo, San Gallo and Maderno. The motorcade enters the Apostolic Palace through a series of three courtyards dating from the 13th to the 15th centuries, and stops in the Court of St. Damasus, the ceremonial center of the Vatican. This courtyard is closed on three sides by "loggia", richly decorated by Renaissance artists, the most famous being the second loggia done by Raphael and his school.

Upon arrival in the Courtyard of St. Damasus, you, Mrs. Ford, Secretary Kissinger and Ambassador Lodge are escorted by Bishop Martin to the antechamber of the Papal apartments where the U.S. Official Party is waiting in the company of Seven Gentlemen of His Holiness.

With the exception of you and Secretary Kissinger, the others remain in the antechamber while Bishop Martin escorts you to the Room of the Lesser Throne, immediately adjacent to the Papal Library. You enter the Pope's Library and are introduced at the threshold to Pope Paul VI by Bishop Martin (official photo coverage). The Pope escorts you to a small table, for head to head talks. Duration: 1 hour. At the conclusion of your talks, Mrs. Ford is escorted by Bishop Martin into the Papal Library and you introduce her to the Pope (press pool coverage). The U.S. official party then joins you (standing behind you and the Pope) and you make remarks, to which the Pope responds (press pool coverage). You and the Pope exchange gifts and you, Mrs. Ford and Secretary Kissinger thank the Pope and depart.

PONTIFICIO ORATORIO DI SAN PIETRO

After leaving the Vatican, you will motorcade to Pontificio Oratorio di San Pietro which consists of a large complex of sports fields and a school located on the hill just behind Vatican City. The Oratorio is sponsored by the American Knights of Columbus who donated the present land when the construction of the new Papal Audience Hall forced the playground to be moved from its original location within Vatican City. The Oratorio was founded by Pope Pius XI and is celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. Approximately 400 students attend the kindergarden and primary school facilities on the grounds, in addition to almost 1,000 who take part in the athletic and social programs provided at the Oratorio.

Approximately 1,000 people will be on hand at the Oratorio to greet you as you board your helicopter including (1) Archbishop Emanuele Clarizio and approximately 50-60 elementary students; (2) Students from Grand Valley State College who are studying in Rome at the American University under an exchange agreement with the University; (3) Bishop Darcy and a large contingent of faculty and students from North American College, a graduate education institution for American Catholic clergy studying for the priesthood; (4) American medical students studying in Rome; and (5) Approximately 200 Embassy staff and their families who have been bused from the Embassy to be on hand.

Upon arrival, Mrs. Ford will be presented a bouquet of flowers by the Oratorio students and you will receive a scroll concerning your interest in athletics and extending good wishes.

With Embassy cooperation, a "Presidential Trophy" has been made available for you to present to Archbishop Clarizio and the students, relating to the 50th Anniversary of the Oratorio and its current athletic competitions. After briefly greeting the crowd, you will present the Trophy to the Archbishop, make brief remarks, board the helicopter and depart en route Leonardo de Vinci Airport. Ambassador and Mrs. Volpe accompany you and Mrs. Ford on the helicopter.

DEPARTURE FROM LEONARDO Da Vinci Airport

At 7:50 p.m., you arrive at Leonardo da Vinci Airport where you will be met by President Leone. You proceed to the podium and make brief departure remarks, following which President Leone speaks. You review the Honor Guard as on arrival in reverse order, bid farewell to President and Mrs. Leone and depart en route Washington, D. C.

The flying time is 10 hours, Time change: - 6. You arrive at Andrews Air Force at midnight.

Mr. Sheila Weidenfeld
Press-Secretary to
Mrs. Betty Ford

WHITE HOUSE
W a s h i n g t o n (USA)

May 30th, 1975

Dear Mrs. Weidenfeld,

I feel guilty that I was not able to thank you for all you have done for me during the trip with Mrs. Ford.

It was really very impressing and I am very grateful for the occasion.

As soon as my article is out I will have sent it to you.

Hoping that you felt content, too, I am

Yours truly
