CABINET MEETING:

The President indicated to the Cabinet his expectations between now and January 20. He plans to submit a budget message to the Congress, an economic report and the State of the Union. The President said he "expects to carry on through January 20, with the same philosophy, the same programs and the same policies. The country cannot afford for us to stand still."

The President also announced to the Cabinet the appointment of Jack Marsh to head the transition team. He will be assisted by Mike Duval and Jim Connor. The President suggested that as time goes by, each Department and Agency will appoint its own transition person to work with the Carter people. The President also said "we will make it as smooth and as helpful as possible."

Finally, the President talked about the last 2 years, and what might come up in the next period of time. The President shook hands with the Cabinet members and had a few personal words and some goodbyes, however, this is not his goodbye to the Cabinet as there will be other cabinet meetings.

SCHEDULE ITEMS:

2:30 p.m. The Vice President in the Oval Office

PALM SPRINGS:

See Summary attached.

Susan and Mrs. Ford will go out on AF #1, Steve and Jack will join sometime during the week. The President will be staying at the Firestone residence and will be paying for his stay as during his other vacation. He will spend some hours each day working on Presidential business, the budget and the State of the Union, and the transition. Since this is, however, basically an R&R trip, there will be golf, etc.

TRANSITION:

2:00 p.m. meeting in Cheney's office with Cheney, Marsh and Watson of the Carter side, on the transition. Possibility of a photo at the start of the meeting.
