My dear Mr. President:

History will record that your courage and dedication in making your recent trip to the Far East has achieved, at last, the breakthrough for which all mankind has been waiting.

Thanks to your efforts, we can now envision true control of the weapons of war, as well as foresee an era of peace where detente can flourish through the bonds of peaceful trade and cultural exchange.

As one who has worked long in the cause of world peace through detente, I wanted to write this to say what admiration I have for your great accomplishments and to again express the great esteem all citizens must hold for your conduct of the Presidency of our country.

Rest assured, Mr. President, that whenever I can be of any assistance I will always be at your service.

Respectfully,

Armand Hammer
