THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of the Press Secretary to Mrs. Ford

Guests attending the President and Mrs. Ford's Christmas Ball tonight will be greeted by Christmas carolers representing the Children's Hospital National Medical Center in Washington, D.C.

Consisting of about 50 adults and children, they will stand at the South Portico of the White House and carol as the guests arrive. They are part of a program known as "Caroling for Children's," an annual project sponsored by the Children's Hospital National Medical Center.

The group carols throughout December to encourage the tradition of caroling and to raise funds for the Children's Hospital. Carolers are recruited from local churches, schools, musical clubs and residential developments.
